WAGES OF SIN IS DISCUSSED BY PHYSICIAN

Dr. Ernest Hall of Victoria Startles Victoria Audience With Facts and Figures.

Illustrated by pictures that were startling to the uninitiated and bristling with astounding facts and figures, the address given by Dr. Ernest Hall of Victoria before the Child Welfare Association on Thursday afternoon, was one to occasion and encourage and stimulate in a great degree deeper investigation of social conditions on the part of all who were in attendance, says the Victoria Times.

Bacon Before Babies.
"It is not pleasant to discuss the wages of sin," said Dr. Hall in speaking on "The Relation of Social Disease to the Child," but for the education of the parents present he would like to crowd into one-half hour, the experience he had gained in a half of a century. "France is waking up, the Mother Country has appointed a National Birthrate Commission, but with Canada hogs are still at a premium and bacon placed before babies, and will remain so until the Canadian public is awakened by a thundering cry of race extinction."

"Canada has been losing prospective citizens for the last 25 years at a rate greater than the total death rate of the war." This terrible loss occurred, according to the speaker, through vice and carelessness. In reading from the report of the British Royal Commission the speaker quoted Sir Rider Haggard to the effect that unless a great change happens, the western races will within two centuries be submerged by a great influx from the East. The body politic was suffering from a disease which was laid at the door of everything from "poverty to poodledogs," but the real underlying causes were not touched upon in newspapers and colleges. The doctor declared that from his own experiences, gathered in the hospitals, "nature's bookkeeper" and from authoritative statistics, the evil of what was "pleasantly termed social disease," is at the bottom of the misery.

Greater Than the Hun.
The greatest enemy that the Allies had to fight was not the Hun, but venereal disease. Not that the soldier was more immoral than the average man—the speaker was convinced to the contrary—but that the rigid examination of men from all classes of life revealed astonishing facts to the public which medical men have known for years.

President Wilson had said the war was fought to make the world safe for Democracy. The speaker urged that the world be made safe for posterity. "We have no right to expend the vitality which belongs to our children. The visiting of the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generations does not extend to the fifth because nature kills off the fifth. It is her way of teaching."

In giving statistics, the doctor stated as the experience of one medical authority that 92 per cent. of the operations upon women could be laid at the door of the scourge of our races. That blindness, rheumatism, heart disease, epilepsy and myriads of other evils were largely due to social diseases was corroborated by facts and figures.

"I have been twice denied the privilege of speaking before the teachers of Victoria," said Dr. Hall in giving an illustration of the lack of responsibility toward the child in the public schools of today. He urged parents to tell their children the truth of life and to do away with the false methods of handling the most vital of all subjects.

The remedy for prevalent evils, he concluded, lay in education, so that the children would not grow up in ignorance and "our people perish from a lack of knowledge."

Interesting Discussion.
In the discussion which followed, the questions were asked why the medical men, knowing the facts as stated by Dr. Hall, had not long since taken some stand, and had they ever tried to get any legislation which would prevent the spread of social disease. Dr. Hall answered that not within his knowledge had the doctors of Victoria or Vancouver tried to effect any such remedial measures.
