MINE WORKERS' APPEAL IS WITHDRAWN

Miners Seem to Have Accepted Government's Assurances; Pittsburgh Men Still Out.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 13.—The United Mine Workers of America, contrary to previous announcements, have decided to withhold appeal on the ruling of the Federal court in the injunction proceedings which resulted in calling off the strike of coal miners.
It has generally been believed that regardless of developments the miners would fight the case in the courts to the last ditch and attorneys for the coal workers announced yesterday that the appeal would be filed within two or three days. However, the chief counsel for the mine workers organization stated that the outcome of the conference of miners' representatives and the coal operators with Secretary of Labor Wilson in Washington on Friday would determine whether the case is carried further. The council have thirty days in which to file their appeal.
The decision is taken to indicate that they have accepted the government's assurance that the right to strike but was solely to prevent violation of the Levy Act.

Many Still Out.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 13.—Despite the recalling of the strike order the miners of this district are showing no inclination to go back to their work. In this feeling they seem to be supported by the workers in the Central and Western Pennsylvania coal fields.

LOCAL HOTEL MAN GETS FINE OF $200

Nine Charges and Nine Convictions in Police Court Today.

Peter Black was found guilty of having liquor in his possession on Monday last and was fined $200 in the police court this morning.

Wm. Hoskins and Fred Auriol Indians, were fined ten dollars each for assaulting an old man, J. P. Harrigan. The victim appeared in the police court with his nose in a rather sad looking state of injury. Fred Auriol was given another ten dollar fine for being drunk and disorderly.
Wm. Campbell, Jack Bell, Hilmer Wang and Ed. Campbell were all fined ten dollars each for being drunk and disorderly. Wang forfeited his bail of $15 and left on an American fish boat during the night. Ed. Campbell, due to some misunderstanding with the officers, had resisted arrest, but as he had a good record and Officers McGlinchy and Duff did not press the charge he was let off with the one fine.
The adjourned case against Joseph Hadyn for having liquor in his possession other than in a private place was up for hearing. After five witnesses, Mrs. Nation, Constables McGlinchy and Duff, Alex. Scott and accused had been heard he was fined $50.50. He readily pleaded guilty to the possession of liquor but was afraid that the supplying charge would be pressed, so the evidence was taken. A complaint had come from a rooming house down town and two constables went to investigate. On arrival at the rooming house they met accused who had a bottle of whisky in plain view so he was pursued. In trying to get away he fell down the stairs and when he got to the street he threw the bottle on the rocks. However, when Constable Duff picked the bottle up there was still liquor in it.

A Victory Loan Message

IF, after achieving a costly victory, Canada fails to provide for her wounded heroes, for the employment of her citizens, and for the maintenance of her trade, Germany will not have fought in vain.
The Victory Loan 1919 is to provide for all these things. It is vitally needed. While the expenses of mobilization were spread over four years, the cost of demobilization is being crowded into one.
British Columbia, which maintained such a high average in recruiting, and Canada, which in Sir Arthur Currie's words, "Never failed to make an objective," dare not fail now.

Port Essington May Win Big War Trophy

Has already Subscribed $41,000 toward the Victory Loan and is Running Anyox Close; Local Purchases $210,000.

It seems to be a close run between Port Essington and Anyox for the big prize of the gun trophy in the Victory Loan campaign which closes on Saturday night. Essington reports that they have collected $41,000, which is considered wonderfully good for a place that size. The general opinion seems to be that they have a good chance to win the big gun.

Prince Rupert now has subscribed about $210,000 and a big effort is being made to bring it up to a quarter of a million before Saturday night. There should be a good deal more collected here yet before the close.

A competition has been arranged in this city between the Chinese and Japanese residents. A special flag is being given to either or both if they reach $5,000 and it is expected that both will get a flag, but which will raise the largest amount is uncertain.
The mayor, who is chairman of the Victory Loan Committee, says that he will have his office open each night this week until 11 o'clock to enable anyone wishing to purchase bonds to do so. This week will be the last chance to get bonds at par and it is confidently expected that they will be selling at a premium soon.

Wonderful Work of British Submarines

Capt. Barney Johnson Tells Canadian Club of Underseas Service During War and Advises Canadians to Take Interest in Sea.

The luncheon tendered to Capt. Barney Johnson, R.N., D.S.O., on board the S. S. Prince George yesterday by the Prince Rupert Canadian Club was unique in that it was held on board a sister ship of the one Capt. Johnson formerly commanded before he went overseas for the great adventure.

Judge Young presided and the dining-room of the ship was filled almost to capacity.
Captain Johnson told of the different grades of submarines and of the purpose of each. They were driven on the surface by diesel engines and when under water were propelled by electric power. He explained the process of diving. At the beginning of the war a boat could sink to a depth of 20 ft. in two minutes, but as the war advanced they learned to do the same in one minute and the record time was twenty seconds.

Opening of War.

The British submarines put to sea before war was declared and remained off Schelling. Then, when fighting commenced, they took positions in Heligoland bight off the German rivers. They were later pushed back by the enemy mine fields but they patrolled the lanes.
The captain told of the torpedoing of a light cruiser under curious circumstances by the E-9 which had been lying on the bottom but came up just in time to sight her. At one time they were told to refrain from attacking German ships outward bound, but to report their presence and try to get them on their return. He also told of the sinking of the Westfalen and the hitting of the Vondertan by Captain Turner with the E-23 and the subsequent reporting of their presence by wireless on an aerial kite.

Reprimanded.

In some unaccountable manner Capt. Barlow in one of the Montreal-built H boats found himself near Heligoland when he should have been ninety miles away on patrol. He sunk a German submarine and escaped from thirty-five depth bombs. He reported to the Admiralty and as a result the British destroyers were fitted with thirty depth charges each instead of four as formerly, as it was clear that they were not as effective as was thought. In spite of the immense service of this experience to the Admiralty Lieut. Barley got a severe reprimand from the Lords of the Admiralty for being out of his position.

Off Irish Coast.

Besides his experience in the North Sea, Capt. Johnson saw service off the coast of Ireland, their first work being to discover the route of the enemy submarines when taking positions. He told a story of a submarine where the crew had felt the boat strike against a mine and one of the crew exclaimed: "Hoch the bloody Kaiser; another dud."
Captain Johnson spoke appreciatively of the work of the submarine engineers. He told of wonderful repair work done at the bottom of the sea. He also spoke appreciatively of the work of Sir Richard McBride in purchasing two submarines in Seattle for the protection of this coast. He suggested that the club get Capt. Roberson to tell them of the "mystery ships" some day. That officer had been torpedoed twice.

Sea Sense.

In conclusion the captain said he hoped when the next war came Canadians would be prepared to take their part both on sea and land. The security and prosperity of the Empire depends on her being mistress of the seas, not only in war vessels but in merchant marine. Canadians should develop a "sea sense." They should be familiar with the building and operating of vessels and should send their sons to sea. "The sea

HUNGARIANS HELD ON BOAT

(Special via G. T. P. Telegraphs.)
KELOWNA, B. C., Nov. 13.—A party of about thirty Hungarians from Moosejaw with their household effects are held aboard the C. P. R. steamer on Okanagan Lake, as the returned soldiers of the district refuse to allow foreigners to settle here.
