BENNETT STATES CASE OF CANADA

RUPERT MAY WELL FEEL PROSPEROUS, SPEAKER SAYS

Dominion Premier Lays Plan For Reciprocal Preferences In Clear Manner Before Parley

Empire Free Trade Neither Desirable or Possible, Delegation Believes—Primary Concern of This Country Is to Sell Wheat

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Definitely and unequivocally, Premier R. B. Bennett of Canada today laid his plan for reciprocal Empire free trade preferences before the Imperial Conference. "I put the question definitely to you," he exclaimed, "and definitely it should be answered. There is no room here for compromise. There is no possibility of voiding the issue. This is a time for plain speaking and I speak plainly when I say that the day is now at hand when the peoples of the Empire must decide once and for all whether our welfare lies in closer economic union or whether it does not. Delay is hazardous and further discussion of the principle is surely unnecessary. The time for action has come."

Premier Bennett was frank in saying that the primary concern of Canada was to sell profitably her wheat. "This market," he declared, "we want and for it we pay by giving a Canadian market preference for British goods."

The Canadian Premier then stated his offer in these terms. "I offer to the Mother Country and to all other parts of the Empire preference in the Canadian market in exchange for like preferences in theirs based upon the addition of a ten per cent increase in the prevailing tariffs or upon tariffs yet to be created. In universal acceptance of this and in like proposals and acceptances by all other parts of the Empire we attain to the ideal of Empire preference."

Premier Bennett added that the proposal could not be uniformly applied. The basis of the proposals was adequate protection to industries now existent or yet to be established. "Because of this we must ensure certain flexibility in the preferential tariff nor could the proposed offer be regarded as a step toward Empire free trade which in the opinion of the Canadian delegation is neither desirable nor possible."

Premier Bennett finally proposed that the conference should reassemble in Ottawa early next year and that in the interval an expert committee study the plan and report.

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8.—On the appeal of George McRobbie, the Court of Appeal here quashed a conviction against him of indecent assault and substituted a conviction for common assault. The court reduced the 18 month sentence which had been imposed by Judge Young, who conducted the trial at Prince Rupert in June, to a sentence of one month.

McRobbie had been in Okalla since June 9 so was forthwith released.

Premier MacDonald Makes It Plain That His Government Opposes Protective Tariffs

LLANDUDNO, Wales, Oct. 8.—Speaking to the Labor Party conference here yesterday, Premier Ramsay MacDonald made it plain that the British government did not favor protective tariffs. He declared that Britain signed the "tariff truce" agreement at Geneva only to permit of the opening of negotiations. He blamed British industry for failing to make the most of opportunities afforded it by the Labor government.

Referring to the Imperial Conference which in plenary session later this week will discuss Empire trade, Premier MacDonald said: "If we start a new system of trade protection of any kind we must apply it to the benefit of ourselves, not to quixotically look after every other interest but our own. There is not a single Prime Minister here from any Dominion who will not regard us as anything but short-sighted fools if we do anything else."

Mayor Malkin Urges Railways to Keep B. C. Loggers Employed

VANCOUVER, Oct. 8.—Co-operation of Canada's railways in keeping British Columbia loggers employed was requested yesterday by Mayor W. H. Malkin. "Keep the men in the and out of the berad line," was the motto uttered by Mayor Malkin as he wired the railway heads to ask them to let their tie contracts now instead of in midwinter.

C. A. Cotterell, general superintendent in British Columbia for the Canadian Pacific Railway, thought the idea an excellent one when it was presented to him. He left last night for Winnipeg where he promises to put the point up to regional executives.

Philadelphia Retains World Baseball Title Two Successive Years

Athletics Played Errorless Exhibition Behind Wonderful Pitching of George Earnshaw and Won Today Seven to One

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8.—Behind the wonderful pitching of George Earnshaw, Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics today won their second successive world's championship, crushing St. Louis Cardinals seven to one in the sixth and final game. The Mackmen hammered the offerings of "Wild Bill" Hallahan from the bushes, who was so effective last Saturday, and he went to the showers at the end of the second inning. Sylvester Johnson came to his rescue but Al Simmons, the first man up, crashed a Homer into the high tiers of the stands. In the fourth, Jimmy Dykes repeated with another crash into the stands, scoring Max Bishop ahead of him. In the sixth, Johnson was replaced on the mound by Jim Lindsey and Gabby Street, Red Birds manager, threw everything but the bat boy into the game.

Earnshaw held the Cardinals in the palm of his hand until the ninth inning when St. Louis scored its only run of the game. Earnshaw permitted but five hits, three of which were for extra bases.

The Athletics made all their seven blows count in scoring.

Col. McMordie Gives Merchants Heartening Better Times Address

Points to Factors Which Ensure This City's Progress—J. J. Little Describes Local Power Development

In view of accomplishments that had been achieved of late and of developments which he predicted were about to ensue, people of Prince Rupert had little reason to feel anything but prosperous and well content. Col. S. P. McMordie D.S.O., manager of the Capitol Theatre, told the Prince Rupert Retail Merchants' Association at dinner last night. Col. McMordie, who was speaking in connection with the forthcoming Canadian Prosperity Week, enumerated, as important accomplishments which would rebound to the great benefit of the city, the improvement of local steamship services, the obtaining of a boat to ply to industrial points in the immediate vicinity of the city, and the power development here.

The speaker was satisfied that the railway hotel, which had been promised, would materialize. There seemed to be little doubt that the construction of a Peace River railway outlet would commence soon and that that outlet would come to Prince Rupert. It was simply a matter of completing financial arrangements until the Canadian Pacific Railway would have a northern coast terminus in Prince Rupert. A trans-Pacific steamship line, the speaker thought, would be here before the most of people expected. As a matter of fact, ships could call here en route between the Orient and Vancouver and lose but six hours time because Prince Rupert was so much closer. A pulp and paper mill was another likely industrial development here. The prospects of the city have never been brighter in years than they are today," the speaker summed up.

In view of all these things, Col. McMordie thought that the people might well talk good times and tell the world that Prince Rupert was the greatest little city in northwest America today. One of the ideas of Canadian Prosperity Week was to remove the feeling of financial un-business which, in the case of Prince Rupert at least, was very unjustifiable. The speaker outlined some of the proposals which had been made for the observance of Prosperity Week.

The Canadian Prosperity Week proposal was then endorsed on motion of Joe Brown and N. Mussallan and, at the suggestion of Frank Dibb, the executive was instructed, in co-operation with Col. McMordie, to make suitable arrangements for the observing of the week.

Votes of thanks to Col. McMordie and Mr. Little for their addresses were passed on motion of Mr. Dibb and Dan Jabour before the meeting concluded.

Bert Morgan, president of the association, was in the chair.

Big Investment
The Power Corporation of Canada, Mr. Little continued, had spent one million dollars in the Falls River power development and, together with investments and investigations at Stewart, Meziaden Lake, Naas River, etc., had put some $2,500,000 in this area to date. Such concerns as the Power Corporation and Nesbitt & Thomson were not spending this money if there was a chance of losing it. At the present time, there was not the electrical consumption to justify the spending of the money but the company had an aggressive industrial department which had been instrumental in bringing industries to other areas. If the people would be patient, similar results would naturally fol-
