A party of Anyox hunters made a trip on board the power boat Granby recently and found very good shooting around the mouth of the Naas River, coming home with a fine bag of geese and ducks. There are reported to be plenty of ducks in the lagoons immediately around Anyox but the hunters of the smelter town have had little success in getting them.

Three teams are entered for the Senior A. division of the Anyox Basketball League. The teams are said to be very evenly matched and the fans of the smelter town are looking forward this winter to be treated to some dazzling exhibitions of the hoop game when the teams settle down to the business of battling for championship honors.

Alberta Sugar Crop Very Large

EDMONTON, Oct. 29:—Alberta farmers are expected to produce approximately 24,000,000 pounds of sugar this year, according to figures that have been secured by the provincial new industries committee investigating the possibilities of sugar-beet growing in this province. The Edmonton Journal states. In its work the committee has ascertained that the soil of the Edmonton district lends itself as favorably to this line of agriculture as others in the province where sugar beets are now grown extensively.

At the present time sugar beet acreage in the province of Alberta is 14,000 acres, and as a result of recent investigations the northern areas are to be recommended for the industry.

WILL BID FOR HONOR

Canadian Growers to Make Strong Showing at International Grain Show

CHICAGO, Oct. 29:—Canada is again expected to make an impressive showing in the International Grain and Hay Show, to be held at Chicago November 29 to December 6, in connection with the International Live Stock Exposition. Already entries are being received, some from the most distant parts of the earth. Three samples of wheat have arrived from New South Wales, according to the management.

Distinction for having made the first entry in the rye and wheat classes of the exposition this year goes to a Saskatchewan grower, James A. Paur of Langham. In the rye classes of the 1929 exposition, Paur's sample ranked high.

Other successful Canadian exhibitors at the last exposition, who are expected to take part this year, were George Avery of Kelso, Sask., who had reserve championship on a two-rowed barley sample at the 1929 show; W. G. Gibson of Ladner, B.C., and William Darnbrough of Laura, Sask., who had champion and reserve champion respectively on field peas; Joseph H. B. Smith of Wolf Creek, Alta., and S. Lacombe of Birtle, Man., who ranked first and second with samples of Red Spring wheat; Eddie J. Shank of Athabasca, Alta., who won a blue on an early oats sample, and many other provincial exhibitors whose samples placed creditably high in the competition.

A well known Canadian, Dr. G. I. Christie, president of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Ont., and a director of the International Live Stock Exposition is in charge of the International Grain and Hay Show. Through him Canada will be invited to send a judge of the small grain classes. The Grain and Hay Show will also have the active support of the various Canadian seed growers' associations as well as the Provincial departments of agriculture.
