WORLD ARMAMENTS

The presence of half of Canada's navy in port naturally highest in the Entrance examina. turns the thought to world armaments and prospects for tion at Booth Memorial School was permanent disarmament. The League of Nations Arma- presented by Mrs. Ernest Anderments Year Book states that United States leads the world son, vice-regent, to Miss Asta Dybin the cost of military and naval armaments, with Soviet havn. Russia second. The budget expenditures for the past fiscal Chapter in connection with junior Works Department, the Department year follow: United States $707,425,000; Soviet Union, matriculation examination was $578,942,707; France, $466,960,000; Great Britain, $465,- presented by Mrs. Anderson to Roy 255,000; Italy, $248,946,500; Japan, $236,861,500; India, $211,587,622, and Germany, $171,923,040. These amounts are given in dollars worked out at exchange rates.

Canada spends $28,920,000, Ireland about $7,080,500, History offered by Queen Mary land was owned by the government and South Africa $4,906,891, providing simply military or chapter, presented to Miss Betty but a prospector was applying for naval police.

The movement in favor of disarmament is today much stronger than ever it has been before. WORLD MOVEMENTS

This is the beginning of an age of world movements in and mothers of pupils were predistinction to the national movements of the past century, sent in the audience. Backward nations are coming forward rapidly and a world conscience is being developed. The League of Nations has already been leading in this direction by trying to inaugurate a world movement against injurious drugs, against BURGLARIES white slavery and in favor of shorter hours and better conditions for workers. Russia has been attempting to make communism a world movement with a measure of success. The Fascist movement has spread. With the development of a world conscience disarmament becomes possible, controlled production becomes a part of practical politics, tariffs tumble, and a world brotherhood is in sight.

In sensational 8-2, 3-6, 6-4, victory over Miss Betty Nuthall at Forest Hills, L.I., Mrs. E. B. Whittingstall of Great Britain won honor of meeting Helen interested. Constable McKenney Wills Moody for U.S. women's singles tennis championship, which Mrs. Moody won for seventh time.

Here the culprits used the axe near the pile for cutting the wood and smashed the register completely, but only secured a few dollars before Mrs. Willee flashed a light from the hotel window in the direction of the noise. Realizing that they had aroused inmates of the hotel the bandits left so hurriedly that a sum of money was left lying beside the damaged register.

*Later an attempt was made to force the door of he liquor vendor's store and the ordinary lock was smashed, but a substantial Yale lock behind withstood the efforts of the would-be entrants.

Next a visit was paid to the Dominion Telegraph office next door. and entrance was effected by way of the window, but nothing of value was taken, the safe being too secure for the efforts of the intruders.

A visit was afterwards paid to the Philbert Hotel, but L. Martin, the proprietor, disturbed the men soon after they got into the hall and they decamped very quickly.

The work was evidently that of amateurish burglars, and possibly some of the local unemployed were arrived Saturday afternoon and at once took charge of the clues for the guilty parties.

The Farmers' Institute found it necessary to bring in lime as cheaply as possible and he (Mr. Frank) believed they could land that lime in Terrace for about four dollars a ton in carload lots. There was no road to the deposit, which was 11/2 miles from Ritchie, but a mud road could be made for around $1500, as the district was exceptionally easy to get through. There was a horse trail which could be followed. The removal of a few stumps from this trail would enable a truck to use it even now for a distance of about a of Mines, and the Department of Agriculture should be asked to cooperate in putting the road through Other presentations were made and opening up such a valuable resource for the whole district from Historical books for Canadian Remo to the Bulkley Valley.
