BOMB TO ACTRESS

Infernal Machine Delivered at Home of Marion Davies in Holiywood Monday

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 23:-Marion Davies, well known screen actress, was presented with an infernal machine for a Christmas box Monday. Fortunately, there were no casualties.

A small package about four inches long was left at a door of Miss Davies' house and picked up by one of the actress' servants. There was a small key and, on turning this, the package started to smoke. Alarmed, the servant called the police who took the package in charge.

Police investigation showed the package to contain gun powder which it was evidently intended should be ignited by match heads rubbing against sandpaper as the key was turned. Had the device functioned, the servant would, undoubtedly, have been badly injured if not killed.

Miss Davies was not at home at the time the parcel was delivered. Police are investigating with a view to apprehending the person who devised the machine.
