U. S. BANK FAILURES

One of the distinguishing features of the insolvency record for 1930 was the unusually large number and except to Hole-in-the-wall for a little extionally heavy liabilities of banking failures in the United citement. Up there they do some-States. Data compiled by R. G. Thus, the number of banking Jones, I'd just like to be your failures in 1930 was considerably more than twice that for mother for a day or two." the immediately preceding year, while the indebtedness was well over four times larger.

UNHEALTHY FRAME OF MIND

Some of the men who are out of work, both here and in other cities, are imbued with the idea that the present social structure is likely to break up at any moment and that it would therefore be foolish to worry about getting a leetle vay, and den I go back to a job or trying to find a niche where he will fit in perman- see bout Ole. to show that a break-up is taking place.

While it is a fact that Russia has had a Bolshevist revolution brought about by perfectly natural and logical causes; that Italy has had a Facist reolution which checked the growing socialism in that country and that Austria and several other countries have had practical dictatorships there is nothing to indicate that really democratic countries are seriously affected. Bolshevism has run its gamut and democracies are being as sanely administered as ever.

The writer remembers hearing addresses over thirty years ago in which it was claimed that within two or three years the end of the present system would have arrived. Audiences of miners were much worked up over it and thought it was going to be so. Yet the old world revolved about as usual and no change came. Human nature chan- "Housewife-no occupation."

Beggars are more numerous there than ever before, yet that country is advancing toward a better condition. We look upon the Russian Revolution as one of the greatest steps forward that has been made in this world, not because it brought about the dictatorship of the "proletariat" but, because it was a gesture in the direction of a more reasonable and just condition of affairs through out the world. Just a gesture, not the real thing.

Mr. McLean, in a rather detailed reply, suggested that charges had been made against this sewer which might not have been rightfully saddled upon it. Digging of new ditches and repairing of new ones had been charged against it, also grading roads and sidewalks. There had also been considerable relief work on sewer construction.

Henry Smith asked Mr. McLean if it were not true that the expenditure had . in up to $54,000 before he (Mr. McLean) left office as city engineer. He (Mr. Smith) thought For Vancouver-Mr. McLean and Jack McRae had been largely responsible for the over-expenditure.
