MOSCOW URGED REDS TO PRACTICE STONE THROWING

Street Fighting Art Advocated In Missive Sent To This Country

Further Unique Evidence is Adduced By Crown in Trial of Nine Communists Charged in Toronto With Conspiracy

TORONTO, Nov. 7:-A thesis on Communism written by E. Vassiliev of Moscow was filed by the crown yesterday in the trial of nine Communists here on conspiracy charges. Vassiliev noted that the comrades in Canada did not know the tactics of street fighting and were easily broken up by the police. He suggested that they should practice stone throwing morning and evening in place of gymnastic exercises so as to attain accuracy in the use of this weapon.

One of the last acts of President B. J. Mellish, until his recent departure head of the local chamber of comister of agriculture at Victoria the question of marketing goods from the northern central interior of the province. He wrote a letter pointing out that Prince Rupert was anxious in the central interior of the province and I quite appreciate the viewpoint which is taken by your chamber, that what benefits the interior will at the same time benefit Prince Rupert indirectly.

"A point touched upon in the second paragraph of your letter seems to be very much under the control of Prince Rupert merchants; that is, the district from which their purchases are secured. If there is whole-hearted desire on the part of Prince Rupert people to patronize the interior in preference to points STEVENS IN at the south, this department will certainly be very pleased to assist you in every way possible, and to that end I have discussed the matter with our director of markets, who will go into the matter immediately and see what can be done to organize the growers of the interior.
