months ago, when it attacked while in a small open gasboat. This time the cougar took to another member of the Arnet family, but a boat that this time was much too uneven a match for it, the Cape Beale being an 85-foot schooner. The members of the cougar family on the west coast apparently have an old grudge against the Arnet family. The seineboat Aliema also sailed for Prince Rupert, where she used. Karl Arnet and Hubert Eik, the two owners of the Aliema, in the respective capacities of captain and engineer, took the vessel north, accompanied by three other fishermen comprising the crew.

On account of slackness of fishing operations on the West Coast of Vancouver Island, the United Church mission boat, Edward White, is being transferred from Cape Mudge district to Bella Bella where Dr. Darby will take charge of its work. This will release the Thomas Crosby, Capt. (Rev.) R. C. Scott, for other duties this summer.
