

A DARK DEED

MIDNIGHT . . . and you feel distressingly empty. So hie away to the dark fastness of the kitchen and raid the refrigerator. Cheese sandwiches . . . cold cuts of meat . . . and, to top off the repast in royal fashion, The Champagne of Ginger Ales—Canada Dry.

It delights you always to find this fine old ginger ale frosting on the ice, for it is the pleasantest ginger ale of all to drink just before you turn in. Bubbles wink like stars in its frosted gold depths . . . its aroma refreshes you. As you sip it, enjoying its wonderful flavour, it rounds out the day and helps send you off to bed thoroughly satisfied and ready for sleep.

Canada Dry now comes in two sizes—the familiar 12-ounce bottle and the new five-glass magnum. Keep a few emerald bottles of Canada Dry always cooling in the refrigerator. You'll have enough on hand for every occasion if you buy the convenient cartons of six or twelve bottles.

FLIN FLON MINE PAYS

Is Able to Continue Operations in Spite of Low Prices of Minerals

WINNIPEG, July 29.—R. H. Channing jr., president of the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Co., states that the company will continue to operate its plant at Flin Flon, Man., up to present 3,000 ton schedule, in spite of the low price level of copper and zinc.

Mr. Channing is further reported to have said that the company was able to operate at the current level of the metal market, and that it was not anticipated that prices would go sufficiently lower to change the company's plans.

Approximately 1,000 men are employed at the Flin Flon plant, a large proportion of these being skilled workmen, many of whom are supporting families. It is estimated, there are somewhere between 4,000 and 5,000 people dependent on the operations of the company. Wage levels are reported as being maintained, notwithstanding the low metal prices.

On the basis of January and February production and estimates for March, approximately 250,000 tons of ore was handled by the Flin Flon plant during the first quarter of the current year. Out of this the company received approximately $4.90 per ton, after deducting freight, refining and selling charges. Operating costs for the period were about $3.60, leaving an operating profit of about $1.30 per ton. Approximately 90 cents per ton was spent for construction, changes to plant, experimental work and transportation of equipment from Island Falls, leaving a net surplus of 40c a ton. Gold values were stated to have been good, the ore running considerably higher in gold than was anticipated from experimental work.

Great Actress Sees Changes In Theatres

No Need For Passionate Diction Today Is View Mrs. Patrick Campbell Expresses

LONDON, July 29.—"We don't get enough opportunities these days to see Mrs. Patrick Campbell act," says Quex in "The Diary of a Man About Town," in the News-Chronicle. "Though she is now returned from 16 months in the United States no new part has yet been found for her to take hold of a palpitating stage situation or exploit an emotion or reveal the intricacies of femininity in her own dominating fashion."

"In the United States they have come to know the great actress as a lecturer. Here her friends in one particular are more favorably placed. They can hear her talk. It is hard to describe her powers of conversation. Better to say simply that when she talks one has glimpses of passion, pathos, and swift, brilliant, sometimes mordant wit."

"I listened to her recently. A great man of the world, a traveller, a man of letters, was with us. He had said something about the pretty walkabouts of the modern stage, of the lack of heights and depths in many of the plays today. 'Still,' said Mrs. Patrick Campbell, 'plays reflect the spirit of an age. No one is heroically tragic today. There is no need for passionate diction. I doubt if there are many passionate youthful love marriages.'

"The craving today,' she went on, 'is for excitement, and that is an entirely different thing from passion. A young girl marries. She has no capacity for tranquil joys. She expects her husband somehow to provide her with change and variety—a restless, will-o'-the-wisp pursuit that is all running about, and yields no fundamental satisfaction.'

"Her voice became softer. 'I have a beautiful memory of my own simple early days of marriage,' she said. 'I married when I was 17. My husband was 19.'

BED GOES TO MUSEUM

Said To Be Largest In World For
It Is Eleven Feet Square and Beautifully Carved

LONDON, July 29.—The "Great Bed of Ware," famous in English literature, has been acquired for the nation through a grant from the National Art Collection Fund, and will go to the Victoria and Albert Museum.

The bed is of Elizabethan workmanship and is 11 feet square. It is richly carved with foliage, terminal figures and geometrical ornament in the full style of the English Renaissance. It still retains traces of the original painted decoration, while the back is inlaid with representations of classical buildings in various colored woods, an dits dimensions far exceed those of any other known bedstead. For many years the bed was in the Crown Inn, at Ware, whence it was removed in 1764 to the Saracen's Head in the same town. During the last half century it has been in a building in the grounds of Rye House, Hoddendon, famous for the plot against Charles II., and the Duke of York.

WILL PROCEED WITH SEWER

At a meeting of the city council last night the city engineer was instructed to proceed with the construction of the Section Five sewer as soon as possible.

A number of men had been laid off work and others will be due for a lay-off within a few days but the sewer work will employ about forty.
