Norway Pine Syrup
 Mrs. Gordon J. Roy, S. W. Port Monton, N.S., writes:—"I had a terrible, tickling cough, and at night could not get to sleep for hours for it. I read about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup and decided to get a bottle of it, and I can truly say it did me a wonderful lot of good."
 "I have three children and I give them the Syrup just as soon as I see them getting a cold or cough, as I always keep it on hand both for the children and myself."

 Being low in volatile it will not block your pipes. Being low in ash, you are not buying clinkers. Being high in fixed carbon means long lasting quality. Being high in British Thermal Units means more heat value per pound.

MOTHER OF TWINS HELPED
 Restored to Health by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mitchell, Ont.—"I had little twin babies and for quite a while after I was so weak I could not do my work because of pains all the way up my legs at the back. I also had headaches and got very little sleep. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and soon I was able to get up and do my work. I have taken three bottles and I am fine, do my work without trouble and am gaining in weight and strength. I will gladly recommend the Vegetable Compound to anyone."

COLORFUL CEREMONIES AT NEW DELHI AS FINE CAPITAL INAUGURATED

This city offers there can be little doubt about the success of the new venture and the increasing glory of the future.
 "For us who are invited here as representatives of other nations, the day is one of peculiar honor. Here we stand in the heart of an old land, beautiful beyond description, romantic in every chapter of its long history, mysterious in every element of its life. We are asked to share in the dedication of a new Temple of Government—in this country of glorious architecture and compelling beauty of buildings. I count it a rare distinction to be asked to represent Canada, a young nation of throbbing ambition and leaping aspiration. You have been graciously pleased to accept a column from Canada for this new structure. It symbolizes the interest of my country in your fresh undertaking. It is no mass of dead stone, for we know now that every stone is a group of whirling atoms. It has been fashioned by the heat of centuries and holds within its shape the activities of age. Nations are the product of time. They cannot be measured by the mere days of recorded history. It is no small tribute that I bring you today—it is the fine result of a nation's hard training and passionate striving. Let this column speak to you always the message that my full heart and anxious lips seek to convey."

 takes. There is no malice in his fighting, yet he fights to win. He scorns the subtleties of political tactics and never takes a mean advantage.
 Those who know him best admire him most, a sure test of any man's qualities. In the two years he has been opposition leader he has steadily gained in public esteem by the direct, incisive and responsible manner in which he has discharged his heavy duties.
 His present abilities are the product of unique opportunities for developing the inherent qualities with which he was endowed. Few men have had such a remarkable all-round training in public affairs.

Results Commendable. Genuine Gratitude.
 Miss Miller, of Croydon, writes:—"In gratitude, I feel I must write and tell you what wonderful benefit I have derived from taking a bottle of your Carter's Little Liver Pills. Having been troubled with indigestion and sick headache for several months, a friend recommended me to try your famous pills, with the results that after the first dose I was made aware of their very real tonic value, and felt I had at last discovered a remedy which performed what it claimed to do."

A Veteran Sourdough
 He is a Pattullo of Woodstock. His father was editor of the old Woodstock Sentinel-Review. Duff was editor of the Galt Reformer before he was 21. He spent some years in the bank and he studied law. Journalism, law and finance form an admirable training ground for public life.
 In 1897 he joined the first party despatched to the Yukon to establish and administer civil government. When the heroes of the "Trail of '98" arrived in Dawson he was there to greet them. Of that original party of seven only he and James McGregor, Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, survive.
 As secretary to the governor, T. D. Pattullo at 25 found himself in a position where every detail of the administration of a difficult community passed through his hands. As assistant gold commissioner, despite his youth, he won the confidence of the rough mining men by his firmness, fairness and despatch.
 This was proven by his election to a seat on the Dawson council when he retired from the service to enter private business. His pioneering instinct again led him to Prince Rupert ahead of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and he was a member of the first city council, later mayor.
 All this rich experience made him an inevitable member of Mr. Brewster's Liberal cabinet when the Liberals took office in 1916. For 12 years he administered the lands department and earned a high reputation for business efficiency. He proved himself a master of the art of delegating authority and earned the undying loyalty of his staff by backing up their efforts.
Quarrel With Vancouver
 He had his share of criticism, but time has been on his side. Vancouver thought it had a quarrel with him over water administration, but Mr. Pattullo considered that it was his duty to guard the interests of the outlying municipalities, two of which are now within the city. Vancouver has never regretted accepting his policy of a Greater Vancouver District Water Board, which now has all the rights and authority he refused to place in the hands of the city council to the possible prejudice of other municipalities.
 The irrigation district at Oliver, which he established, has become one of the show places of British Columbia and will this year add 500,000 boxes to the province's apple crop. The University endowment lands as laid out under his direction are conceded to constitute ultimately one of the most beautiful residential areas on the continent.
 The leadership he gave the lumber industry in organizing to handle export orders has brought millions of dollars into the province.
 It was inevitable that he should become the leader of his party and the Liberals show no signs of regretting their choice. They have confidence that when the day

BUY HERE; HELP CITY
 This Is Something Every One Can Do to Boost Prince Rupert

Many things can be done to help make a better situation in the country as a whole and, particularly in the home town. Public spiritedness, community pride and persistence with the authorities are among these things. When one considers all the things that may be done for the betterment of the community, after everything is analyzed, one important thing stands out that every one can do—and that is to buy at home. Situated as Prince Rupert is, it is most important that we should leave our dollars in Prince Rupert instead of sending them out to assist in making even larger the big cities of the east and south. This is something that every public spirited person can do. If all our money were sent out this way, our city would be hopeless.
 Albert & McCaffery have a larger stock of building materials right here in town today than they ever have had. They are prepared to supply everything that goes into a house. They are also prepared to supply the best Vancouver Island and Alberta coal in any quantities.

COURT OF REVISION ENDS WORK

Assessment Roll Was Finally Adopted at Meeting Yesterday

The question of whether there should be any general reduction in the city assessment was discussed at the close of the session of the court of revision yesterday afternoon but as no formal motion for an increase was brought forward the assessment was finally approved after a few minor adjustments had been made.
 In the discussions that took place it was pointed out that the reduction of ten per cent this would necessitate an advance of four and a half mills increase in the tax rate, bringing it to well over fifty mills on the dollar. Any further general reduction would bring it still higher.
 A request for a change in assessment on the railway trackage in the city was left as before as under the railway fixed assessment it would make no difference this year and more information was required before a change could be made.
 The Capitol Theatre assessment was reduced from $85,000 to $80,000, it being understood that if this was not satisfactory to the owners they could bring proper evidence in regard to costs before the court of revision next year. There will probably be no tax on improvements this year so the amount of assessment will not mean much.
 A parcel of land aggregating 12.45 acres which had been transferred from the Grand Trunk Development Company to the Power Company was assessed against the Power Company at $60 an acre, the former company being relieved of that much.

Applications for reductions from M. Murray, L. Hanson, Wm. F. Wagner and R. C. Hulbert were not allowed it being pointed out that the assessments in those individual cases were not higher than that of their neighbors.

Nadina Child Is Dead Here

Clara Priest, Aged Five and a Half, Passed Away in Hospital Last Evening

The death occurred last night at 8 o'clock in the Prince Rupert General Hospital of Clara Priest, five and a half year old daughter of Mrs. Mabel Priest of Nadina. The child had been in the hospital only a few days, having been brought here from the interior.
 Funeral arrangements are in the hands of the B. C. Undertakers.
