

SLIP DIRTY

FINALS IN BADMINTON

Play Was Keenly Contested Last Night in Practically All Events of City Tournament

Finals last night in the city open badminton tournament under the auspices of the I. O. D. E. Club were closely contested and proved highly interesting. One of the tightest encounters of the evening was the men's singles in which youth met youth and Ronald Allen finally beat William Tobey, 11-15, 15-4, 15-10.

Mrs. H. L. Shadwell and Mrs. Shelford Darton defeated Miss Caroline Mitchell and Miss Frances Cross, a strong pair, 5-15, 15-8, 18-15 in a hard fought ladies' doubles final.

Frank Russell and Will Lambie were forced to extend themselves to vanquish Ronald Allen and William Tobey, 15-6, 11-15, 15-8 in the final of the men's doubles.

C. J. Norrington and Mrs. A. E. Parlow brought their victorious march to a successful conclusion by beating Shelford Darton and Mrs. H. L. Shadwell in the mixed doubles final 15-0, 18-15.

Mrs. H. L. Shadwell had no difficulty in disposing of Miss Kathleen Dunn in the final of the ladies' singles, 11-0, 11-1.

After the games, silver cups were presented to the winners by Mrs. C. J. Norrington, wife of the president of the I. O. D. E. Club. The men's singles trophy was a handsome cup presented by Mayor Cyril H. Orme.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Robert Blance as convener and Mrs. Robert Bartlett and Mrs. C. J. Norrington assisting.

German Boxing Body Also Peeved at Max Schmeling

BERLIN, Jan. 28.—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, continues to incur the wrath of boxing commissions here and there. Now his home board, the German Boxing Commission, has worked up quite a peeve at him.

The commission wirelessly a sharp request to him aboard the liner Europa, bound for New York, asking him to explain immediately a newspaper interview published here. He was quoted as saying that the commission "never knew anything about fisticuffs; never showed real interest in his or any other German boxer's foreign achievements, but always found him home when it needed money."

Schmeling has been involved for two years in disputes with the New York State Athletic Commission, which recently withdrew recognition of him as the heavyweight champion. He was also involved in a long drawn out managerial squabble in New York.

SPORT CHAT

The sixty-eighth annual prize meeting of the National Rifle Association will be held at Bisley from Monday, July 6, to Saturday, July 18. Similar arrangements to last year have been made by the kindness of the War Office for the provision of personnel, ammunition and equipment, and it is hoped that both the Admiralty and the Air Ministry will again sanction the attendance to complete the numbers required for range duties. Entries at ordinary fees will close on Monday, June 22. The periods of shooting each day will be from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 noon, from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. and from 4:30 p.m. to 8:15 p.m. The first period has been extended to permit, if squadding allows, of half an hour's "Unlimiteds" before the commencement of squadded competitions.

Miniature indoor golf was played more than thirty years ago, according to an account taken from a St. John newspaper in 1897. The item appeared originally in a London journal of that year, and described a course laid out "from garret to cellar," with a saucer in a baby's crib one of the sportiest holes. The affair, which was characterized by one of the golfers as "the greatest fun imaginable," was held in an ordinary house and played by a group of guests, at the instigation of the hostess when wet weather precluded golfing on a regular-sized course. One interesting shot was described: "My ball was under a great four-poster bedstead in one of the spare rooms; and I had to crawl under and draw it out with my niblick. I could not see the door it was to go through, but Reggie said if I hit it against a certain sofa, which was stuffed with horsehair, the rebound might send it where I wanted it to go. So I tried it, and it was the most perfect success."

STRIBLING SAID BEST

Jack Dempsey Places Him at Top of Heavyweight Heap With Schmeling Ahead of Sharkey

NEW YORK, January 29.—W. L. (Young) Stribling, of Macon, Ga., is the best of the current crop of heavyweights in the opinion of Jack Dempsey.

Making his annual selections of world fistic stars for the ring, in The Boxing Magazine, Dempsey places Stribling at the top of the heap, with Max Schmeling second and Jack Sharkey third.

"To Stribling, I think, we must look to regain American supremacy in the heavyweight ranks," said Dempsey, "for it is my opinion that, if Sharkey has ten more opportunities to win the crown, he will fall short of the mark. Were I to attempt a comeback, which I am certain I will not, poor as I might be, there is one heavyweight I am sure I can knock out—none other than Jack Sharkey."

Here's the way Dempsey ranked the leaders in the various fistic divisions:

Heavyweights—Young Stribling, Max Schmeling, Jack Sharkey, Primo Carnera, Tuffy Griffiths, George Godfrey.

Light-Heavyweights—Maxie Robertson, Jimmy Slattery, Larry Johnson, Lew Soozza, Tait Littman, Pete Latzo, George Courtney.

Middleweights—Mickey Walker, Len Harvey, Dave Shade, Harry Smith, Angel Clivile Vince Dundee, Jack Hood.

Welterweights—Young Corbett, Tommy Freeman, Jimmy McLarnin, Jackie Fields, Young Jack Thompson.

Junior Welterweights—Jack "Kid" Berg, King Tut, Manuel Quintero, Billy Townsend, Sammy Mandell, Joey Medill, Stanislaus Loayza, Herman Pedlick, Mickey Cohen.

Lightweights—Tony Canzoneri, Jack "Kid" Berg, Billy McLarnin, Justo Suarez, Al Singer, Louis "Kid" Kaplan.

Junior Lightweights—Benny Bass, Roger Bernard, Al Foreman, Johnny Farr, Pete Nebo, Freddy Miller, Davey Abad.

Featherweights—Battling Battalino, Earl Mastro, Fidel La Barba, Kid Chocolate, Eddie Shea, Tommy Paul, Lew Massey, Bud Taylor.

Bantamweights—Al Brown, Kid Francis, Newsboy Brown, Joe Scalario, Pete Sanstol, Archie Bell, Vivaldo Gregorio, Domencio Bernasoni.

Flyweights—Midget Wolgast, Frankie Genaro, Phil Tobias, Frankie "Kid" Ensem, Steve Rocco, Marty Gold, Black Bill.

PRINCES TO RIDE MULE

In Argentine Visit Royal Highnesses' Tour to be by Aeroplane and Mule-Back

LONDON, Jan. 29.—When the Prince of Wales and Prince George are in the Argentine this spring in connection with the opening of the British Empire Exhibition at Buenos Ayres by the Prince of Wales on March 14, they will have a varied means of transport, including mule-back and aeroplane.

They will first visit Santiago de Chile and then proceed southward to Puerto Montt, a seaport at the head of the most northerly of the magnificent fiords inside the Chilean Archipelago. From Puerto Montt they will then cross the Cordilleras, the southern continuation of the Andes mountains, by motor-car and mule-back to Nahuel Huapi lake, which is just within the Argentine border at the foot of the Andes, where the Princes are due on February 27. There is no railway on this part of the journey.

After spending two nights at a ranch on the lake shore their Royal Highnesses will go on to the Argentine Southern Land Company's ranch, further down Lake Nahuel Huapi where they will remain one night. Then they will travel by train to Puerto San Antonio, 400 miles distant, on the east coast of the Argentine, and on March 4 they will begin a 700-mile aeroplane journey to Buenos Ayres which they will reach March 5. They will stop at Mar del Plata on the night of March 4.

The Prince of Wales along with his brother, will be the guest of the Argentine Government for three days, March 6, 7 and 8, and the two Princes will probably leave on the night of the third day for Mar del Plata. They will stay, unofficially, at this Argentine seaside resort until March 13, and then return to Buenos Ayres for the official opening of the British Empire Exhibition, the principal object of the visit to the Argentine of the heir to the throne.

There are several reasons why

GUINNESS IS GOOD FOR YOU

FOR NERVES. Guinness is good for "Nerves" It contains phosphates and other natural tonic constituents. In many cases of "Neuralgia" or nervous headache Guinness acts like a charming banishing pain.

A glass of Guinness at dinner or supper is wonderfully soothing and calming, restoring and rebuilding the tired nervous system.

Guinness is a delicious beverage, preserving the natural virtues of the barley, barley malt, hops and yeast from which it is brewed.

Guinness should not be served COLD.
