The Heart is the Human Engine

The motor car which stalls by the roadside or the aeroplane which drops into the sea is no more helpless than the human body when the heart plays out.

The heart is the human engine. If supplied with suitable nourishment and not overstrained by unwise eating and living, the heart is a prodigious worker and meets all ordinary emergencies.

When the nerves weaken the action of the heart weakens. Restore the feeble nerves by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and immediately you strengthen the action of the

This is the most certain way to overcome heart weakness, and the time to begin treatment is to-daynow. You can no better afford to delay than can the pilot in the aeroplane. When you receive the danger signal from the heart it is time to apply the restorative-Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.
