PREMIER BENNETT'S HOLIDAY

People of Canada will join in hoping that the holiday trip to Europe upon which Premier Bennett is embarked will be instrumental in restoring the Prime Minister to his normal health and energy. In office now for nearly a The organization of a radio assoyear and a half, Mr. Bennett has already proven himself ciation in Smithers is under considito be one of the most hard working premiers the country eration. Preliminary steps have alhas had. His desire to work, however, appears to exceed this capacity as indicated by his recent near breakdown. Possibly, he has now become convinced that the offices of Prime Minister and Minister of Finance combined are too arduous for one man to handle. Rumors are heard that he intends to appoint a separate Minister of Finance soon.

Meantime, all parties will admit that Mr. Bennett has earned the short rest he plans to take and it is hoped by all that his trip will prove both enjoyable and beneficial.

COLUMBIA BYELECTION

The provincial byelection campaign in Columbia riding is now on. Wrongly or rightly, by many political observers, it is regarded as a test of strength between the Conservative and Liberal parties both of whom have nominated candidates. The prospect is for a straight fight.

The Conservative candidate has the advantage of being the government candidate which in byelections is usually Game matters were the principal discontinue planting of trout in a condition much in his favor. It may or may not be an advantage for the Liberal that the last member was of the Liberal party. In answer to that Conservatives will say that it was largely the personal popularity of the late John Buckham that caused him to survive the Conservative landslide in the last general election.

The Liberals may also derive some advantage from the fact that the Conservative candidate is not at this time an actual resident of the riding whereas the Liberal is a popular and prominent merchant in Golden, the constituency's largest community.

Speaking generally, however, ridings, unless they are traditionally of the other party, and Columbia is by no means traditionally Liberal, do not usually turn against the government in byelections unless they feel that the actions of that government warrant such an action of censure. Whether or not the people of Columbia are of the opinion that the Tolmie government is deserving of their censure will be better known after the ballots have been counted on December 19. Meantime the progress of the campaign will be followed with interest here as elsewhere.
