Dry, Hacking Cough Caused By a Neglected Cold

Mrs. James A. Stewart, Stellarton, N.S., writes: "For some time I was troubled with a dry, hacking cough, caused by a heavy cold I had, at first, neglected. A friend told me if I would take Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup it would help me, so I got a bottle and it did relieve my cough. I am the mother of six children and I use it for every one of them when they have colds, and find it always gives relief, and I would not be without it in the house for anything."

FISHERMEN'S STRIKE

Although Prince Rupert is a fishing community, many people here do not understand the reason for the strike which is continuing at Seattle.

The owners of the boats say that they have expended a lot of money putting in diesel engines and other equipment which cuts down the cost of operating the vessels but increases the overhead. Because of that they say they should have a larger share of the proceeds than formerly.

The fishermen, while agreeing that the cost of operating has been cut down, declare that the fish are becoming less plentiful and that the life is a hard one and worth all they get while employed in the calling. They say that their earnings have been reduced owing to greater difficulty in securing catches and the high cost of gear.

The Seattle boats are generally larger than those operating out of Prince Rupert.

It's very difficult to get excited about the proceedings of the Legislature this year. With no money to spend the government is most uninteresting just now.

PASSING OF TREATY

The passing of the halibut treaty by the United States Senate was rather unexpected as previous despatches had indicated that it was likely to be held over for a year. Now it seems pretty sure to become law and operative before next winter.

While doubtless there will be some difficulties encountered in connection with the working out of the general scheme for closing areas, it must be remembered that the commission is able to make such changes as may be necessary from time to time in order to work the least possible hardship on the fishing communities.

The steady depletion of the halibut makes action of some kind necessary and it would be foolish to wait until the halibut were all gone and then try to bring them back. The more reasonable method is being taken. Commence at once with a system of protection of the banks and especially the chicken banks.

Liquor seems to be very much in the public eye. But it's all right as long as it does not go to the public head and make the public wobbly.

Mussallem's Open Second Cash and Carry Grocery

OPPORTUNITY FOR PEOPLE OF SECTIONS 6, 7 AND 8 TO SHARE IN BENEFITS OF CASH BUYING

BEGINNING MONDAY

The popular response given by the householders of Prince Rupert to the Economy Cash & Carry Store on Third Avenue, the first in Prince Rupert which we opened just 18 months ago, has convinced us of the need of another Cash & Carry store. This, combined with the fact that we are satisfied that the householders do appreciate the very material savings effected by purchasing their pantry supplies on the cash and carry principle, has prompted us to change our Fifth Avenue store to Economy Cash & Carry No. 2. Alterations to be effected will make the new Cash & Carry store convenient and handy, where you will receive the same courteous attention we have always endeavored to render our customers.

The reductions in operating cost effected by the change will make it possible for us to offer our customers the best of food products at prices much lower than formerly.

We appreciate the support given us in the past and solicit a continuation of your patronage under our progressive policy of lower prices.

The meat department will be conducted as usual under the management of W. M. Jones, who is well and favorably known to a large circle of satisfied customers.

Orders amounting to $3.00 or more will be delivered free. For orders less than $3.00 the small charge of 10 cents will be made.

The change comes into force next Monday, March 2.

TOLD ABOUT NEW GUINEA

Captain Miller Described Visits to Many Points in South Sea Islands

A whiff of the South Seas was given members of the Rotary Club and visitors by Captain Miller skipper of the Canadian Ranger, a the Rotary Club luncheon yesterday afternoon, S. D. Johnston presiding. He told them of head hunters, of cannibalism and of the various things he had seen and heard when trading around the island of New Guinea, and adjacent islands. The chief articles of commerce were sandalwood, hemp, tobacco, rubber, yams, bananas, sugar, nickel and most important of all the fruit of the cocconut known commercially as copra.

He told of the birds of paradise, the male of which preens and struts but is not allowed to be shot. He described the native catamarans, told of Port Moresby, the sink of the Pacific, and mentioned the efforts made to increase the cocconut plantations.

In minerals, the captain told of a wonderfully rich gold mine which was developed directly Australia received the mandate to administer the German territory. There was said to be blocked out sufficient ore to produce $125,000,000 in gold but the difficulty was transportation. This had been overcome by the use of airplanes by means of which in 20 minutes the higher plateau could be reached, a feat which took a week before. There was also nickel at New Caledonia and many prospects in the mountains of the west coast.

At the close the captain was thanked for his interesting address.

cented general assets of the board. "Do you think that to have this reserve tied up in realty, buildings and so forth is in compliance with the act?" Mr. Manson asked Mr. Craig.

The comptroller general did not think he should answer this question.

"The government has spent it. That's all," said Mr. Pattullo. "That million dollars has been spent and never replaced."

SINCLAIR LEWIS RETURNING HOME

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Like a bad little boy returning home, Sinclair Lewis, American author, is here on his way back to the United States. In an interview yesterday he admitted: "I am curious to discover if they are angry at what I said in Stockholm."

SUPERIOR Beer

BRITISH COLUMBIA payrolls depend largely on the interest of British Columbians in the products of British Columbia industries. To insist on a B.C. Product, is to demonstrate one's own personal interest in the progress and welfare of British Columbia industry as well as to specify a desire to acquire the product for consumption or use.

Payrolls build communities, increasing payrolls increase the prosperity of a community. Demand B.C. products. The beers listed below are the products of a 100 per cent. British Columbia industry employing a large number of men entirely dependent upon the industry for a comfortable livelihood. These beers are the highest quality it is possible to make. Insist on them by name.

SURPRISE VICTORY

Ottawa Senators Defeated New York Americans Four to Two in National League

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—The lowly Ottawa Senators sprang a surprise by defeating New York Americans four to two in the National Hockey League last night. The defeat was a bitter one for the Americans who hold only a one-point lead over the Montreal Maroons in their fight for a berth in the Canadian section play-off.

At New York, the Rangers defeated Toronto Maple Leafs four to one and, as the Canadiens trounced Detroit Falcons five to nil at Montreal, the Rangers now lead the fourth place Detroiters by three points.

Man in the Moon

Thirty days have September, April June and November. All the rest have thirty-one Excepting February alone.

In that month business takes a lull. Weather and work are beastly dull. So here's good-bye to four poor weeks In a month that fairly reeks and leaks.

Plumber: "Did you want a plumber, lady?" Lady: "Want, indeed! I wrote last January." Plumber: "Wrong house, 'Arry Party we're lookin' for wrote last November."

A colored man got his nerve together and took a flight in an airplane. As he climbed out of the ship on its return to the field, he turned to the pilot and said: "Suh, Ah has to thank you fo' both dem rides."

"What are you talking about?" said the aviator. "You only had one?" "No, suh," returned the passenger. "Ah had two—mah fust an' mah last."
