GOOD AND BAD TIMES

A visitor to Vancouver tries to refute the fact that times are not good in that city. What he ignores is that there are in that city a large number of men who are unable to find employment. That indicates bad times.

Businessmen sometimes try to ignore the men who earn their living by the sweat of their brow. The reference is not to Prince Rupert businessmen, who are not that kind of people. They are too close to the real situation to be unaffected by it. We in Prince Rupert realize that a large section of the community have little to look forward to this winter except the relief offered by the government. That means hard times. It is useless to try to deceive ourselves. We have to face a situation which is anything but pleasant.

The Daily News likes to be optimistic and we even now feel optimistic in regard to the future. We know that Canada has the wealth and we believe the people have enough good sense to see that all share in that wealth, but as long as there is any considerable part of the population unable to earn sufficient to provide them a reasonably good living we cannot admit that times are good, even though a few people may seem to be making money.

TWO PARTIES ONCE MORE

It looks now as if Britain will be again divided into two political camps. Presumably there will now be two parties, the Labor party and the National or coalition party. It is a condition that Labor has been seeking for many years.

For years the Liberal party has not amounted to much although Lloyd George has been virtually formulating the policies for the Labor government owing to the position he held as key man in the political structure. Some Liberals have been waiting an opportunity to throw in their lot with Labor and others have sympathized more with the Conservatives. From the formation of the coalition it seems as if Liberalism would disappear and the two old political names would pass from general use.

MONEY NOT AVAILABLE

Editor, Daily News:-

May I encroach once more on your valuable space for the following reply received from Victoria to the correspondence you published on August 15. We are very much indebted to you and appreciate the privilege.

"Dep't. of Public Works,
"Victoria, B.C.,
"August 20, 1931.

"Dear Sir:-

"With reference to your letters of the 12th and 14th instant, I note the resolution passed unanimously at mass meeting held in the Eagles' Hall at Prince Rupert on the 31st July last. In this connection I would point out we are advised there are some forty-four thousand unemployed persons in British Columbia who need assistance between now and next summer. A very much similar position pertains throughout the whole of Canada and is much worse in many foreign countries. Many industries, through no fault of their own are closed down; the farming this year has not been good and consequently sufficient revenue to meet the situation along the lines you suggest is simply not available.

"I may say that the unemployment committee of the Provincial Government has been going very thoroughly into the whole situation and has quite recently had an opportunity of discussing same fully with representative of the Federal Government. Plans are now being made by which it is hoped some measure of relief will be afforded at an early date and until we are formally advised by Ottawa as to what Federal aid will be forthcoming we are not in a position to make any public announcement as to what we will be in a position to do.

"Yours obediently,

"(Sgd.) P. PHILIP,
"Chief Engineer.

"Secretary,
"Unemployed Association,
"Prince Rupert."

Man in the Moon

Jake says he'd hate to be a Labor politician. He thinks he'd be read out of the party like Ramsay MacDonald for hobnobbing with the moneybags.

The most important person in the world today is Mahatma Gandhi. They worship him in India. After cursing him in Britain for years the people there are beginning to respect him. Possibly the British, too, may worship him later.

Jake says Gandhi will be sure to get the British goat.

What a great and glorious feeling it must be to have a ten dollar bill in your pocket and not owe anything.

Pretty soon nobody will owe anything because most of the merchants everywhere on the continent are refusing to give credit. Hard on the bums!

Customer: "How's the meat today?"

Butcher: "The best ever. The steak's as tender as a woman's heart."

Customer: "Gimme some sausage!"

A little boy was saying his go-to-bed prayers in a very low voice.

"I can't hear you, dear," his mother whispered.

"Wasn't talking to you," said the small one firmly.

Jake says when you buy a car don't try to drive it into a beer parlor like Ole did last week. It costs money to drive that way.

Invigorating as the Forest Shade

Invisible ingredients that create a precious memory:

- ...the coolness of a pine-filled glen
- ...the sparkling clearness of a shade-dappled stream
- ...the freshness of a plunge in the pool
- ...the relief of a sudden shower on a scorching day.

All these and more are your pleasures as you sip a bottle of Carling's Black Label Lager—invisible ingredients that make Carling's Black Label Lager a memory to be revived again and again.
