Three Girls' Teams Promise to Put Up Keen Play During Coming Winter

Some of the classy fans are being lined up to play league basketball in the city this winter and, as for the coaches, they are knockouts.

The quintette headed by Sue Boddie is to be handled by Walter Johnson. With management such as that this aggregation should be a strong one.

Ella Steen's team is to be coached by Art Phillips. Ella has what appears to be a very promising team.

Lillian Lowe's five are to have "Pop" Menzies for their trainer. He has seen a basketball many times and knows it is not square. This team ought to give a good account of itself.

These three aggregations can be counted upon to provide keen and interesting play.

SPORT NOTES

The Los Angeles Examiner in a copyrighted interview quotes Babe Ruth, the home run king, as believing he is paying a heavy price for glory. "I can't go to movies," said Ruth, who is here on a barnstorming visit. "It might affect my eyes. I haven't seen two shows in four years— and I love shows. I can't dance. They tell me it's bad for my legs. It's nearly five years since I waltzed. And I love to waltz. I can't attend a night club. They'd say I was drinking and carousing. I can't read a book on a train, for it's too hard on my eyes, and I spend most of my life on trains. I can't gamble. Not even a few dollars. And I love to roll dice, play faro, cards, bet on horses—anything. But if I were seen with gamblers or in gambling houses, it would start gossip.

"I can't travel on airplanes, but I'd love to. It's against the rules of my contract, of my insurance policies, of everything I'm connected with. I can't shake hands promiscuously. It's dangerous, and they tell me I'm making too much money to expose myself in that fashion. There's nothing I despise more than to refuse to shake hands with anyone. I can't go swimming. Because I'm told I would be exposing myself to colds. I have a 16-cylinder automobile, but I can't speed it. If I was hurt while speeding my wages would be stopped during my convalescence. I can't play a round of golf because I'm followed from tee to tee by persons seeking my autograph. Hang it all. I can't do anything. Not just yet. But wait. In two more years I'll be through with baseball. Then I'm going to break loose—wide open. Not for long, but for a while."

URGES PEACE OUTLET WAY OF HAZELTON

In the Financial Post just to hand is a letter signed by S. M. Code of Winnipeg in which he urges the Peace outlet to Hazelton as follows: Editor, The Financial Post:—

In an article in The Financial Post of October 17 mention was again made of the extension of the Pacific & Great Eastern Railway from Quesnel to Prince George.

In the last eight years much engineering work has been done on the Peace River outlet. Some of the plans were tabled at the last session of Parliament at Ottawa.

For over a hundred years the Peace River country has produced wheat and is the garden spot of Western Canada this season. The elevator people at Grande Prairie this fall have been buying wheat by the load at 31c basis No. 1 Northern, which amount includes the 5c government bonus. Freight from Grande Prairie to the Pacific Coast is 28c a bushel.

The men making the economic survey for the British Columbia government believed that Finley Forks was a key position, as it was believed that the great development of the future in that country would be on the north side of the Peace River.

It appears logical that the line should run west from Finley Forks to connect up with the Grand Trunk at Hazelton instead of Prince George and save a haul of two or three hundred miles on Peace River wheat. Premier Bennett at election time last year supported railway relief for the Peace River country. If the Dominion Government spends $1,500,000 south of the Grand Trunk which will not help these thousands of settlers it will be an outrage. These settlers need encouragement.

S. M. CODE, Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 20, 1931.

DEMOLISH LANDMARK

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The old Empire Theatre, where some of this country's most celebrated actors and actresses won their stardom, is going to be sold at auction soon. The Empire and the Metropolitan Opera House, glamorous relics of the Nineteen ties, are the last survivors of the playhouses that once lined Broadway from Forty-Second Street down to Herald Square. The theatre district now lies in the upper Forties and lower Fifties.

First night audiences in the old days applauded Maude Adams at the Empire, and Viola Allen, John Drew, Margaret Anglin, Henry Miller, William Gillette and the youthful Ethel Barrymore. More recently Charles Frohman opened the house in 1892 with a melodrama by David Belasco called "The Girl Left Behind Me." The critics panned it, and it lasted only two performances. But later it was produced again and became almost as famous as David Belasco himself.

IN March, 1778, Captain Cook, in search of "a navigable waterway from the Pacific Ocean to Hudson's Bay and the Atlantic", cast anchor in Nootka Sound (Vancouver Island)... just eight years before John R. Molson began to brew what is now Canada's oldest and finest ale. Molson's quality has stood the test of time for more than one hundred and forty-five years.
