Felt Tired Out All Day Could Not Sleep at Night

Mrs. Aldamond Lalonde, 2481 St. James St., Montreal, Que., writes:-"After a spell of the grippe I was left very nervous, and felt drowsy and tired out all day, and could not sleep at night.

I was also troubled with my heart and did not feel at all like working. I was told about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after taking four boxes I was completely relieved of my trouble, and can recommend your Pills to everyone."

TOTAL OF TEN HEARINGS MAKES DOCKET HEAVIEST IN SEVERAL YEARS HERE

His Lordship indicated that the two murder cases would be tried first by sending out the Grand Jury first with these bills of indictment One case is that of Rex vs. Sigurd with the murder of Charles Henry Yoch, Houston farmer, on or about September 3 last. The other is that of Rex vs. Samuel Douse, who is charged with the murder of Silas Brown at Kitwancool Indian village on or about January 10.

In the Jussila case, the judge pointed out that evidence was of circumstantial nature. The body of Yoch was found badly beaten in his cabin and later accused was found by the police in a rude sort of dugout nearby in possession of deceased's rifle, clothes and watch. His Lordship commended the bravery of police officers in this case in capturing Jussila after they had been faced with a gun in his hands.

In the Douse case, evidence is more of a direct nature. Crown wit- 80 nesses, the judge pointed out, would testify that accused was in possession of a gun at the time Silas Brown was shot early one morning at Kitwancool. Eye witnesses of the affair would give evidence. The case of Rex vs. Jussila will be heard first and will be followed by that of Rex vs. Douse. Less serious criminal cases will be heard at the conclusion of these.
