BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Eczema On Hands

Couldn't Put Them In Water

Mrs. Solomon Belikopf, R.R. No. 1, Neustadt, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with eczema for four years, and it was so bad I could not put my hands in water. I found Burdock Blood Bitters the only medicine that would give me any relief, and after taking four bottles the eczema had all left me. I can now do my own washing, and wish to give thanks to B.B.B. for what it has done for me."

DOWN TO BUSINESS

Apparently the two governments, Dominion and provincial, are getting down to business in dealing with the unemployment situation. Mr. Bennett was returned to power largely because of his solicitude for the workingman in regard to unemployment and, after his election, he took quick action to call a session of the legislature to deal with it. Then he slumped. He did not even spend all the money that was voted. Also he made no attempt to get any public works going, such as was done on the American side.

Pressure has now been brought to bear. The whole country has protested and Mr. Bennett seems alive to the situation. The first step was to offer to co-operate with the provinces in taking care of the floating population that is out of work. The next move is expected soon in connection with a policy to find employment in different parts of the country, more particularly in connection with the building of highways and the construction of the Peace River western outlet.

People of this district are now looking forward with keen interest to hear what is proposed. They are daily scanning the newspapers for an announcement from Ottawa in regard to the policy to be adopted. This will undoubtedly come soon and the men will be put to work. If it is not done, more active steps will have to be taken to impress the government with the seriousness of the situation. When a national crisis arrives it is the duty of the national government to deal with it.

School's Out!

WITH a joyous shout, thousands of boys and girls will soon leave school for summer vacations. To the great majority it will be just the start of another two months of play. To many it will mean leaving the public schools and advancing to collegiates or vocational training schools. To a favored few the autumn term will bring the start of a college career.

Columario at Usk Ready For Mill—Canyon Creek Placer Promising—Another Party On Nation River

Columario Gold Mines Ltd., whose property is located at Usk, has just issued a booklet for the benefit of its stockholders and others who may be interested. The booklet contains reports from mining engineers of standing, outlining the amount of work already done on the property and the value of ore at various places in the tunnels. Gold values, it is said, predominate and run from a little over $7 to the ton to over $40 per ton with a general average of over $20. Many hundreds of feet of tunnels have been driven into the mountain on the different veins. Since the engineers' reports were prepared, some 440 feet of additional tunnels have been driven with most satisfactory results. The property is now ready for a mill and it is expected that the company will proceed with the erection of same at an early date. The mill will be situated under the hill and will be connected with the workings by an aerial tram. The mill, itself, will be connected with the railway at Usk by another short aerial tram. The property is so situated that every economy can be adopted. Veins are true fissures and all tunnels are drift tunnels, except, of course, the short connecting tunnels. When work starts on the mill and the mine is producing, it will be an important asset to Usk and the interior. Capt. John Willman continues to be in charge of the development work.

C. H. Chignow of Hixon arriving in Prince George a few days ago, brought cheerful news of placer developments on Canyon Creek. Mr. Chignow is of the opinion that Canyon Creek is one of the places that early miners overlooked. Ten men are now sluicing and rocking there and considerable rough gold is being recovered, each man taking out from $6 to $8 per day. Some of the nuggets recovered are worth from $2 to $3. Where the men are working the bed rock of the creek is covered with about six inches of clay and it is in this clay that the gold is found. There are men washing on most of the creeks in the neighborhood but it is Mr. Chignow's opinion that Canyon Creek has the best prospects.

It is too early yet to say just what the placer gold claims on Rainbow Creek in the Nation River district may amount to, stated Paul A. DesBrisay on his return to Vancouver a few days ago after a brief staking trip to Rainbow Creek. Few of the many claims, which now extend solidly up the creek for a distance of 18 miles, are being worked yet. The discovery claims of the Snell brothers, within a mile and a half of the mouth of the creek, are said to be yielding an ounce per day. "Nobody is down to bed rock yet. In fact, so little has been done that I would not venture to say more than that our party got what we consider good sample returns from panning on our eight claims which adjoin those of the Fisher party about 14 miles up the creek. We found fairly coarse gold and we are going to take a chance and work through the summer," said Mr. DesBrisay. Belief of early prospectors that gold would be found only around the mouth of Rainbow Creek has been dissipated. Panning shows just as good values further up. Mr. DesBrisay went in with Harry McKenzie, H. R. Montgomery and George Silke, the last-mentioned piloting McKenzie's small Fleet plane. McKenzie and Montgomery have remained on the property to put up a cabin and get ready for working of the claims. The plane is being kept on a small lake about three miles away. DesBrisay and Silke plan to return to Rainbow Creek about July 1. Mushing out to Fort St. James to record their claims, they met on the trail about thirty argonauts, mostly old timers of the Prince George and Fort St. James districts. At Fort St. James they met A. K. Money and his party who staked later beyond the DesBrisay party. Money is having lumber and other equipment freighted in and plans to establish a permanent camp.

Man in the Moon

Politics seems to be like imperfect glass. It distorts the vision.

Don't you think his action is criminal?

Well, let me see, which political party does he belong to?

An optimist is one who thinks that because an airplane left Tokyo it will land in Prince Rupert.

There seems to be nothing to get excited about now that cricket is no longer played in Prince Rupert.

Lady (to soldier covered with bandages)—Oh, my poor man, did some one fire a shell at you?

Soldier—No, mum, the canary kicked me.

Willie—My dad can stop a train with one hand.

Jack—How does he do it?

Willie—By pulling the communication cord.

Dan MacDude—Are my clothes ready?

Tailor—Not yet, sir.

Dan MacDude—But you said you would have them done if you worked all night.

Tailor—Yes. But I didn't work all night.

New Lakeside Inn is Opened

Beautifully set in one of the most picturesque sections of Nova Scotia, combining marine and landscape vistas which bid fair to bring it fast into line of popularity with its sisters at Digby and Kentville, the new Lakeside Inn, at Yarmouth, N.S., was formally opened on June 26, as the newest link in the Canadian Pacific Railway's great chain of hostelries from Atlantic to Pacific. Readily accessible from Saint John, through Digby, via the luxurious steamer "Princess Helene"; from Halifax, over the Dominion Atlantic Railway; and direct from New York, Boston and Portland by Eastern Steamship Lines, the town of Yarmouth and its new hotel are destined to play an important role in tourist traffic to Nova Scotia, with its famed Annapolis Valley and historic Land of Evangeline. Sport and recreations are plentiful and varied. Canoeing, tennis, fishing, swimming and innumerable attractive excursions are only a few of the offerings. There is good golf available near Yarmouth and the hotel and its cottages form a comfortable base of operations. Taste and comfort have been skilfully combined in the spacious public rooms, broad verandahs and airy bedrooms. Its cuisine and service are conducted on the established standards, known to guests of the company throughout Canada.

Protect your Life Insurance and it will protect you and yours . . . .

IF financial difficulties tempt you to forfeit any of your Life Insurance, first get the expert advice of the company or companies in which you are insured. They can probably suggest a plan to help you maintain the protection of Life Insurance for yourself and loved ones.

Perhaps you intend to allow your Life Insurance to lapse now and take out new insurance later. If so, remember these three facts:

First—New Life Insurance is certain to cost you much more.

Second—You may discover too late that you are uninsurable.

Third—The moment you let a Life Insurance policy lapse you deprive your wife and children of the protection they need.

Better play safe. Wise counsel from an authorized Life Insurance representative may save you money and prevent future hardship.
