FOR GIRLS

Pupils of Kitsilano High School in Vancouver Set Precedent

VANCOUVER, Sept. 25.—Beach pyjamas may be all right for young ladies during the holiday season, but students at Kitsilano high school here have very different! ideas about work-day costumes. The Skeena River is at a phenom- Voluntarily they have adopted unienally low level for this time of forms, and it is believed that in this year and a very early close of steam- action they have set a precedent for > to school September 1—there are per tin several hundreds of them-they PASTRY FLOUR-Wild were attired in neat blue uniforms of distinctive yet practical design. Navy blue serge, tailored into jumper dress with low cut front over white blouse, or smart skirt, worn with white blouse, is the chosen fashion. With both these costumes, ties in school colors will be worn, as will blue blazers with APRICOTS-Aylmerschool crest. Low-heeled shoes and dark blue hats, with possibly blue or reefer coats for winter, will be the only necessary wardrobe for these girls. No jewelry or ornaments of PHONE any kind will be worn.

No frills or foibles, these young girls decided, and parents agreed with them by an overwhelming majority. The matter, properly presented to parents, was put to vote and whole-heartedly endorsed. Miss Jessie Casselman, vocational guidance teacher, states that the uniform is not compulsory but has been chosen by the students themselves as a means of creating a greater spirit of harmony among pupils. No more vieing with one another in matter of new dresses, new foibles 9C that may come up, or height of heels or amount of jewelry. All this is dispensed with under the new DEL MONTE CORN-No. 2 tinsplan and the girl whose parents are stretching every penny to keep her at school cannot be distinguished from the girl whose father has unlimited income. The uniform is not necessarily C purchased ready-made. The Home Economics department has aided 70 several students in blocking out RED ARROW GINGER their own patterns, and mothers | SNAPS-per lb. have been sewing on these during ORMOND'S FINE BISCUITSthe summer. Our Japanese girl has tailored her own costume, and it is stated her uniform compares favorably with those purchased. School authorities look with favor on the new plan for dress.

9c Gathering Last Night at Army Citadel Here

There was a goodly gathering at the Salvation Army Citadel last night when Staff Captain Joseph Acton, divisional commander for Northern British Columbia and Alaska, spoke on the subject of "An Old Love Story." A bright and profitable time was spent by all in attendance.

Community singing was much enjoyed, the hymns being selected by the congregation.

At the close appreciation was expressed to Staff Captain Acton. Prospects are bright for the success of the remainder of the campaign.
