

Was Weak and Run Down Could Scarcely Do Housework

Mrs. Edward A. Allen, Bezanon, Alta., writes: "I would like to tell you of the great benefit I have received from your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I was feeling very much run down in health, and was so weak I could scarcely do my housework, in fact, I would have to lie down in the afternoon for an hour or so. I saw your Pills in the drug store and took a box home with me, and I was delighted with my renewed strength. I have recommended them to a neighbor and feel sure they will help her too."

CANCER RELIEF

Manitoba Institution Invests $60,000 in Radium

WINNIPEG, June 10.—The Manitoba Cancer Relief and Research Institute is functioning now and facilities are available for those in need of treatment. The institute has invested $60,000 in radium, $40,000 of which was spent in securing half a gram from New York and the remainder expended in purchasing a supply held by several Winnipeg physicians who employed it in their private practice.

All the radium in Manitoba now is in the hands of the institute and doctors wishing to secure the precious mineral must obtain their supplies from the organization. Headquarters of the new body are in the Manitoba Medical College where two specially prepared safes, lined with lead six inches deep and comprising 4500 pounds of metal, have been erected to handle the radium.

Radium, officials of the institute explained is not applied directly to the body but emanations from the metal are obtained and methods for handling this gas will be the same as those prevailing in the Memorial Hospital, New York, where more radium is located than in any other institution in the world. In the past few years a method has been devised whereby these emanations can be distributed to any part of the country and used by medical men with the same benefit as if radium itself were employed.

The mechanism which secures the gas from radium pumps it into gold tubing, which is then cut into small sections of about an eighth of an inch long, containing the substance which it is believed stops cancer growth in the human body. The power of the small sections, known as "seeds," is accurately checked so that radiation omitted will be correct for the treatment.

Prevent Harm

To prevent harm to those handling radium it was necessary to discover a container that would open and shut automatically. Solution of the problem was found when a radium expert unearthed the idea of using something similar to a sugar container he noticed in a New York restaurant. This device is lined with lead and closes when set down and opens when raised.

The newly formed body will bend every effort to extend its facilities to those suffering from the dreaded cancer growth and to learn something that may further aid in eradicating the disease. For years formation of a cancer relief and research organization had been urged, the officials state, but not until last year did sufficient funds appear to make the move possible. The difficulty was solved when the Manitoba government consented to guarantee the bonds of a cancer institute for $100,000.

The institute is controlled by a board appointed from hospitals, medical organizations and the provincial government. The institute must pay interest on the bonds guaranteed by the government and is therefore not a charitable institution, and will be placed on a paying basis. The only income will be from the sale of radium emanations and from the charges made for the use of the radium itself. Indigent patients, however, will be treated free of charge, which means that half the body's work will be done free gratis.
