THE DAILY NEWS.

PRINCE RUPERT - BRITISH COLUMBIA

Published Every Afternoon, Except Sunday, by Prince Rupert Daily News, Limited, Third Avenue H. F. PULLEN - - - Managing-Editor

SUBSCRIPTION KATES
City delivery, by mail or carrier, yearly period, paid in advance	$5.00
For lesser periods, paid in advance, per week	10c
By mail to all parts of Northern and Central British Columbia, paid in advance for yearly period	3.00
By mail to all other parts of British Columbia, the British Empire and United States, paid in advance, per year	$6.00
By mail to all other countries, per year
ADVERTISING RATES
Transient display advertising, per inch. per insertion	1.40
Classified advertising, per insertion, per word	.02
Local readers, per insertion, per line	.25
Legal notices, each insertion, per agate line	.15
Contract rates on application.
Editor and Reporters' Telephone86
Advertising and Circulation Telephone

DAILY EDITION

Member of Audit Bureau of Circulations

AND THE RESIDENCE OF THE PARTY OF THE PARTY

BRITISH ELECTION CAMPAIGN.

Great interest is being shown in Prince Rupert in the election campaign proceeding in Britain. With nominations over, the last lap of the contest is now in full swing and the winners should be declared on the evening of October 27, one week from next Tuesday.

The Nationalist group go into the fight with a good lead of over fifty as a result of nomination acclamations and the very general opinion expressed here and coming over the wire from Britain is that the new coalition will win. But, no election is certain. Election prophets are always liable to prove false prophets.

IS TELEVISION REALLY HERE?

A good many people seem to doubt if television is really come and come to stay, but it has. The only question now seems to be where it will be allowed to operate and to what extent. Before these matters are finally decided and before a reasonably priced receiver is put on the market, a number of years may possibly elapse.

There are at present 29 experimental stations more or less in operation, but so far the Radio Commission refuses to grant regular broadcasting licenses to any, claiming that visual radio is yet in a state of flux. The fact that the broadcasting band is ten times as wide as that for sound only, makes it necessary to curtail the number of licenses granted. Just now an attempt is being made to experiment with very high frequency waves so as to prevent interference with sound stations already operating

Among those who have been interviewed for television stations was JimmyMcLarnin, the boxer. People with proper instruments who heard him speak also saw him speak just as they would see the speakers in a theatre.

Most of the big concerns now engaged in broadcasting are preparing to supplement their present broadcasts just as soon as the time is ripe for the change, which is likely to take place rather suddenly and accompanied with considerable ballyhoo. In the meantime huge sums of money are being expended in improving the various systems.

Some idea of the financial importance of the new movement is seen in the fact that the DeForest Radio Corporation has filed suit against the Radio Corporation of America, claiming damages amounting to four million dollars for infringement of patent rights and total suits filed against the same concern by various companies total $48,000,000.

A recent Washington despatch states that broadcast stations in increasing numbers are getting picture track practice in preparation for the debut of television as an entertainment medium. Twenty applications for visual station licenses are pending now before the radio commis- modes of an earlier day-changed, debonair and sion, ten of which have been filed by operators of sound of course, to fit in with the modern with them. Slender stripes of fur program stations in various parts of the country.

In spite of all this activity it may reasonably be expected that it will be several years at any rate before television will be in reach of the general public and even then it will be rather expensive at first. In the meantime we may all enjoy the sound broadcasts which are being enjoyed by a carded -so long as it is velvet it into chic use all through the winterconsiderable section of the community.

To Every Business Woman $50 a Month for Life!

of so many women in later life.

Every woman who is earning her own free from risk of investment loss and living should provide a surplus so that unaffected by business or any other she may secure independence in later life. | conditions. The need . . . the ambition, to enjoy A guaranteed, continuous income banetirement free from want and depen- ishing all thought of future care . . . all dence means that a woman must save worry, all fear, all chance of being in and invest wisely during her earning that dependent class which is now the lot

Advancing age and declining earning The Confederation Life plan is the power will hold no terrors for you if you safest, surest plan for building a permanmake certain of the following: Every month of every year a Confed- serene confidence if you decide NOW mail for a definite, non-fluctuating awail yourself of the certainty provided amount.

A monthly income as long as you live, coupon NOW for full information.

Confederation Life Association

Toronto, Canada Month . . to Every Business Woman."

WALTER PURKIS, Representative Box 414, PRINCE RUPERT

Fashion Follows the Hat Back to the Romantic Era

Letitia Chaffee

The hats started it-now design- romantic picture that its popularity ers of dresses, coats and suits are for winter wear is unquestioned. all busy brushing up on their Second Empire history. For fashion THE FUR-TRIMMED DRESS in general is feeling the call of It's unmistakably fall, 1931—the the romantic-eitner in details or dress with the fur trimming. Barin the entire silhouette. Empress onduki, Persian lamb and leopard Eugenie, the "arbitress of fashion," give a dashing touch to frocks of is still dictating the mode in the year | bright red and green. We find white of grace, 1931. We find the trigly ermine giving a luxurious note to fitted waistline everywhere in fash- black satin and valvet. White galion—in coats, dresses, suits. We yak appears on black—black seal on find the sleeves going romantic in white bodices—to give stunning their puffs and intricate details. We contrast. These pliable furs lend find evidences of the bustle in the themselves smartly to use on revers, puffs at the back of skirts. All of cuffs, collars, buttons and belts-

Monday, Oct. 19, 1931 these are clever adaptations of and designers have achieved some scheme of things.

IT'S ALL VELVET

silk velvet. It may be velveteen. Whether it is ribbed, plain or jac- without a coat—yet they are carried Mrs. Gunnar Selvig. is smart this season. Wear velvet months underneath a coat. for afternoon—for evening — for sports—in black, brown, navy, or MY LADY'S SLIPPER on sleeves and collars are amusing. Cowl drapes of galyak, cravats with short cut ends, tying like a scarf, It may be transparent. It may be are new. These dresses are particularly smart for fall street wear Mrs. John Bye, sponsored by Mr. and dark, dark red or green. Brilliant Fall shoes promise us a comfortcolor tones in velveteen or corduroy able, as well as smart season. The enliven the sports scene. Velvet as tailored street shoe has taken off a fabric fits itself so well into the some weight (as is the fashion in all feminine circles) and we find it lighter, with a lower, more sensible. but smartly designed heel. Fashioned of suede-often with perforations or calf or alligator trim-or of calf or kid, fall street shoes are most popular in brown and black-though some very dark green, bur-gundy and navy suedes also appear. Ties, wide strap shoes, built up pumps are the styles for street. When it comes to afternoon and evening wear we find a surprising thing—the abdication of the severely plain opera pump from its throne in the hearts of women. The opera pump with bows, with strip trims or side cut-outs, however, is prominent socially. Sandals are still popularand for evening they practically hold the field alone. For this use the cut-outs are decidedly extreme -the colors are usually bright, to accent the costume. Moderation is the keynote in the hight of heels for all daytime occasions—but for evening very high heels are the vogue.

Neat, Aren't They

Gorgeous New Winter Coats

Baptisms At Lutheran Church

Rev. John H. Hanson Officiated at Service in English Yesterday

At a service in English at St. Paul's Lutheran Church yesterday, Rev. John H. Hanson performed the fol-

Karl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl

Chum, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Ingrid, son of Mr. and Mrs. H.

Wahl, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. H.

Harold Ingvald, son of Mr. and

Afternoon Frocks

A. J. PHILLIPSON'S

In Bankruptcy

It Will Pay You to Wait for Shoes, Clothing, and Dry Goods. Open in a few Days. Watch This Space for Further Announcements.

M. L. GREENE, Liquidator