GOULD'S BOOK ON 102ND REGIMENT

Many Local Men Mentioned in Publication Just Issued.

"From B. C. to Baisieux" is the title of the narrative history of the active service of the 102nd Canadian Infantry Battalion from the time it was raised in Northern British Columbia in 1915 until the battalion colors were finally deposited on Sunday, September 22, 1919, in Christ Church, Vancouver. The author is L. McLeod Gould, M. S. M., Croix de Guerre, (B. A. Cantab.), who was a sergeant and diarist of the 102nd Battalion and was one of the few to go through every engagement entered into by the gallant unit.

Being a recognized writer, and thus qualified with his actual experience the author is fully qualified to write such a book and he has made a wonderful success of it. The volume is replete with detail and local interest and many well known Prince Rupert names are noticed in scanning over the pages. There are also a number of excellent and interesting illustrations. This book is the first history to be written of a Canadian battalion and is dedicated to the members of the battalion who laid down their lives for the cause of liberty.

Scope of Book.

The first part of the book is devoted entirely to the battalion history and is followed by a number of appendices and a complete roll of the officers and men of the regiment. The battalion is said to have been raised as a result of a wager made between H. S. Clements and one of his colleagues at Ottawa that a thousand men could be mustered from the district of Comox Atlin. The officer commanding was Lieut.-Col. J. W. Warden, who claimed to have been the first man to enlist in Canada. Among its majors were J. F. Brandt, who recruited here, and the late Major J. Charles Dalsey, who covered the Prince George district in efforts for volunteers. J. A. Kirkpatrick was appointed paymaster with W. F. Beak as his assistant. Both these officers went through the entire active history of the regiment. Dr. N. M. McNeill was the medical officer for the battalion. Others of the officers were the late Lieutenants R. A. Stalker and Adair Carrs.

The incidents of where and how our local men fell are given very particularly and as a remembrance to the boys who are lying in France the book is unsurpassed. It will be of great interest to all people in Prince Rupert, as there are dozens of names in the volume with whom all residents will be familiar.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:-

THAT skating by moonlight is the latest thing.

THAT usually there is plenty of moonlight in Prince Rupert but not enough skating.

THAT there is a convenient stump near the middle of the lake and it makes a suitable seat for two.

THAT some of the boys took their girls to the lake and some took Alice B.

THAT "Daddy Longlegs" is a great play.

THAT it must have been a joker who shipped liquor to Toronto labelled "Everlasting Roofing Material."

THAT a few drinks would put the average person "up in the air" but he comes down in the morning.

THAT the stuff certainly goes to the roof.

THAT "home rule" is a question that concerns people other than the Irish.

THAT the man who comes in late too often is likely to know something about it.

THAT it is to become rulers that most women get married.

THAT they are apt to lose their sovereignty as the family increases.

THAT the Mexicans are hoping

IS THE 'FLU A NEW DISEASE?

Reappearance of Epidemic
Leads to Discussion on Subject.

The reappearance of "flu" at many points brings up the old question as to whether it is a new disease or a new form of some very commonly described in the general consensus of medical opinion is that it is a germ disease of a virulent type which first attacks the membranes of the nose and throat and then spreads to some vital organ where it develops very quickly and does fearful work.

The symptoms of "flu" are about the same as those of a cold in the head, and for that reason it is now positively unsafe to allow a cold to go without attention. Treatment should be started as soon as the head starts closing up, the nose starts running or the sufferer starts sneezing. Let these conditions run for 24 hours and acute trouble is liable to develop, possibly resulting in an attack of pleurisy, pneumonia or kindred ailments.

If Grip Fix is taken when the cold is starting, relief may be expected in a single night. Even if the cold has reached the Grippe stage, 48 hours treatment is usually effective. Grip Fix contains nothing but the drugs your physician would order, a full list of which is given on every box. It comes in capsule form, and in a night will relieve the closed-up condition of the head, overcome the fever, allay the muscular soreness and tone up the system. Be prepared. Have Grip Fix in the house. Be sure to get the original Grip Fix. It's on sale at all druggists at 35c per box.
