ADDRESS IS INTERESTING

Young people's need of the church and the church's need of young people might be summed up as the keynote of an eloquent and highly interesting address which was delivered before the Young People's Society of First Presbyterian Church last night by Rev. W. M. Kannawin of Toronto, convener for Sabbath Schools and Young People's Societies for the Presbyterian Church in Canada. Dr. Kannawin spoke briefly of young people's work and then on the subject "Why You Need the Church and Why the Church Needs You."

Dr. Kannawin spoke for about an hour and a-half and a large gathering of fifty-six members and visitors, gave an untiring hearing. After his address he invited and answered questions.

E. J. Smith, president of the Young People's Society, was in the chair and, after Dr. Kannawin had spoken voiced the appreciation of all assembled for the fine address they had heard.

A recreational period brought the evening's proceedings to a close.

JAPANESE LICENCE ALLOTMENT AND SOCKEYE EMBARGO ARE OPPOSED AT FISHERIES PARLEY HERE LAST NIGHT.

of fish from the grounds to the dealers. The only instance where such a subsidy was now in operation in Canada, Mr. Found explained, was in connection with the transportation of lobsters from the Nova Scotia coast to Boston, where there were no regular transportation facilities and where the fishermen paid $3 per crate of 100 to 150 pounds for the service.

In connection with a proposal that the government establish cold storage facilities at Prince Rupert for the benefit of the fishermen, the price of ice was discussed. Mr. Found stated that he had gone into this matter and had found that no more was charged at Prince Rupert for ice than at other points on the coast. He did not see what could be done by the department. Opinion was expressed by Mike Anderson that, whereas $3 a ton was charged for ice, it could be manufactured at a cost of from 80c to $1.50 per ton. Mention was made of the allegedly high price of gasoline here and it was suggested that the government through the Canadian National Railways might help by putting rates of rail transportation on the markets.

"We are asking you," said Mr. Found in addressing Mr. Found, "if there is not some method by which the fishermen can be assisted in working out their own salvation. We make an appeal to the department to subsidize our industry from the producer's standpoint."

Mr. Found gave assurance that he and the department ever had the best interests of the fishermen at heart. "If we could do anything to better the lot of the fishermen, let me tell you we would sleep better at night," declared the deputy minister.

The department had not been idle in connection with the matter of the duty on Canadian fish entering the United States, said Mr. Found, and he was hopeful that the question might soon come to a point where fairer treatment might be expected. "If it is not forthcoming, then you know the statement that was made by the minister in the House without me repeating it."

In connection with the suggestion that licence plates be given by the department to fishing boats as was done with motor cars, Mr. Found admitted that such a scheme had much to recommend it and yet it had disadvantages and one of these was that there might be more delay in the issuance of licences.

Can Make No Change

A suggestion that, in the printing of licences for gillnetters, the name of the cannery be eliminated met with the reply from Mr. Found that next year's forms were already printed and, therefore, no change could be made.

Mr. Found stated that a suggestion that the length of the weekly close season be governed by the actual number of fishermen operating rather than by the statistic number of licences was already actually in effect.

Another suggestion offered was that only the person to whom a fishing licence was issued be permitted to utilize that licence. It was felt that the principle of companies deputizing fishermen to operate their fishing licences was wrongful. The licence should rather be made out to the person actually using it.

In answer to a question by Mr. Norman, Mr. Found denied that the chief supervisor of fisheries of British Columbia had been a participant in favor of the salteries in the recent dog salmon price dispute on the West Coast of Vancouver Island. The chief supervisor had merely suggested terms which had enabled the contending parties to come together and end the tie-up.

The meeting was in agreement with a suggestion that sealing be not permitted in Burke Channel, South Bentinck, North Bentinck Arm and Labouchere Channel as these had always been considered traditional and exclusive gill-netting grounds.

Mr. Cook suggested that salmon fishing be permitted within the tidal boundaries of streams after the spawning season was over, say November 20. "If this were permitted, I would not be on the bread-line now," declared Mr. Cook.

The two matters which provoked the most discussion were the policy of attaching of Japanese fishing licences to designated canneries and embargo on exportation of fresh sockeye.

The opinion was generally expressed that, by removing the attachment of licences plan, a system of virtual slavery would be terminated. If the Japanese was entitled to a fishing licence at all, he was entitled to fish on a basis of equality with his competitors, the white man and the native born Indian. The system of contracting on these licences was more especially condemned. J. Kizawa, M. Sakamoto, C. S. Obata and Sadao Suga, speaking on behalf of the Japanese fishermen, lent their voice in the protest at the attachment system and its iniquities. Leaders in the protest were Gustave Norman and Charles Lord. Others were also heard.

Important Question

Mr. Found admitted that this question was one of major importance. It was impossible for him to give any definite pronouncement at this time but he could give assurance that the matter would be fully and carefully considered and the decision made known as soon as possible.

Mr. Found told the meeting some of the reasons why the cannery operators held that the embargo on export of sockeye salmon should be retained. It was only through having control of the sockeye on the coast that many of the canneries were able to remain open for sockeye was one of the few varieties upon which a profit could be realized.

Mr. Norman and others held that his protection for canners was absolutely at the expense of the fishermen. Why should the fishermen of British Columbia receive only 37½¢ for the very same fish that in Washington brought 75¢? The view was held that the canneries could pay more for Canadian salmon than they were doing. It seemed unfair that the fishermen had to suffer because they would not. As matters were at present three major canning concerns dictated the price that was to be paid on this coast and the fishermen had to accept it. The system provided the canneries with an opportunity to become monopolistic and it was declared that they were taking advantage of the opportunity.

Mr. Found stated that he had taken a note that the meeting was unanimously in favor of the embargo on sockeye salmon exportation being raised.

G. W. Nickerson inquired if the Cockfield-Brown report on the fisheries of Canada had been presented yet and was told by Mr. Found that it had been and the information contained therein would no doubt, be soon made public.

In opening the proceedings, Mr. Found briefly described the purposes of such conferences. The desire was to get the views and opinions of all branches of the industry. Mr. Found explained that the minister of fisheries had been disappointed at being unable to visit Prince Rupert during the past season but he hoped to be here next summer.

Before the meeting closed, Chas. Lord thanked Mr. Found for the courteous manner in which he had conducted the meeting and heard the various views.

Mr. Found replied that it was always a pleasure for him to meet the fishermen of Prince Rupert and exchange views with them. He thanked all who had turned out and particularly those who had provided him with valuable information. "While I don't want you to expect too much, I would like you to rest assured that we are doing the very best we can," declared the deputy minister.

"THE NEXT TWO WEEKS SHE GAINED 15 OUNCES"

Excuse me, dear reader, just a minute, while I open my mail. Here's a letter from London, Ontario, that sounds interesting. Perhaps you'd like to hear it.

"Dear Mary Blake," it begins. "I must tell you what Carnation Milk has done for my baby. At seven weeks I took her to a specialist, for she was under-weight and had gained only 2 ounces in two weeks. He put her on a formula using Carnation Milk and in the next two weeks she gained 15 ounces!"

"She is a year old now and has had no other milk since. She is not fat, but well filled out and the correct weight, and has a very happy disposition. Her teeth, which she has cut just lately, have caused no upset in her digestion, and she has been free from the ailments so common to many babies."

That is interesting, isn't it? Did you know that Carnation Milk is now being prescribed by the very greatest specialists as the ideal milk for bottle-fed babies? Well, it is—and the reason is that it has been found to be far easier to digest than any other form of cow's milk.

You see, Carnation is heat treated; and that causes it to form very fine, soft, flaky curds, which the baby's stomach can digest almost as easily as the curds of mother's milk. Carnation is homogenized, too, so the butter-fat is in tiny particles which do not tax the digestion.

Besides being more digestible, Carnation is fully equal in nutrition to the very best of bottled milk. It is unsweetened evaporated milk—only water is taken out of pure whole milk; nothing is added. Butter-fat, carbohydrates, minerals—all are there. The vitamins are the same as in bottled milk, so only the usual supplements—orange juice and cod-liver oil—are needed.

Really, I wish every mother knew about this wonderful milk. Think of the safety of milk that comes sterilized in an air-tight can, protected from any possible contamination. Think of being saved the bother of boiling or pasteurizing. Think of how the uniformity of this milk prevents upsets. Think of being able to get the same milk anywhere, if you happen to be traveling or visiting. Do you wonder that I get heaps of enthusiastic letters from mothers of Carnation babies?

If you'd like to know more about Carnation Milk for babies please write for the new Carnation booklet, "Baby Feeding Simplified." It will show you what medical authorities say about this good milk. And, if you are interested in novel, delicious recipes, send for the Carnation cook book. Both are free. Address Carnation Co., Limited, 134 Abbott Street, Vancouver, B.C.

USE THE SAFEGUARDED MILK

Protect your baby from diet upsets by using the milk of unchanging goodness. Guard your baby's health by using the milk that is always safe—because sterilized. The greatest baby-feeding authorities say that Carnation is just as nourishing—from the standpoint of vitamins, minerals, etc.—as the best bottled milk, besides being far easier to digest.
