CITY HONORS WM. BRASS

Council Makes Presentation to Crack Local Marksman

The city of Prince Rupert officially recognized the feat of William Brass in winning the Sir Henry Thornton Shield, emblematic of the international railway small-bore shooting championship of Canada, at Montreal recently when, at last night's council meeting, Mr. Brass was presented by Mayor Cyril H. Orme with a handsome sterling silver cigarette case suitably engraved. Mr. Brass had been called to the council chamber for the occasion.

In making the presentation, Mayor Orme declared that Mr. Brass had covered himself with glory and had brought honor to the city. The city was very proud of him and His Worship expressed the hope that next year Mr. Brass would be shooting at Bisley.

Mr. Brass expressed deep appreciation for the honor that had been paid him. If he had helped to boost the city, he was very happy. Next year he hoped to do even better. In the course of his remarks, Mr. Brass gave an interesting description of the events at the competition in Montreal in which a number of Bisley men participated. The local marksman also voiced appreciation for the reception which had been accorded him when he arrived on the train Sunday afternoon from the East.

Telegrams which had been exchanged between Mayor Orme and Mr. Brass, after the latter had won the shoot at Montreal, were presented to the council.

LOCAL UNIT IS WINNER

Defeated H.M.C.S. Skeena by Sixteen Points in Rifle Shooting Last Night

The local unit of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve won by sixteen points last night over H.M.C.S. Skeena marksmen in a rifle shoot at the miniature range in R.C.N.V.R. headquarters. The team consisted of eight men, the six high men to count. The total score was 540 points for R.C.N.V.R. and 524 points for H.M.C.S. Skeena.

LOCALS WIN BOAT RACE

Outpulled H.M.C.S. Skeena Yesterday—Final Race Next Month

The local unit of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve, which had the misfortune to lose the first race Sunday on account of an oar breaking when it was a length and a half ahead, took the measure of an H.M.C.S. Skeena crew yesterday afternoon when it won the second whaler race by half a length.

The final race will be pulled late in October when H.M.C.S. Skeena will be here again. On that occasion the Skeena will enter two whalers, while the R.C.N.V.R. will again depend upon the crew which won yesterday. The winner will hold for one year the Burns Cup, which henceforth will be pulled for annually between visiting H.M.C.S. ships and the local unit of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve.

NATIONS LEAGUE

Terrace Boy Wins First Prize for Fair Paper

(First prize paper at Terrace Fair submitted by John A. Smith, Grade XII, High School, Terrace.)
Subject: Ways in which the League of Nations may be strengthened.

The Essay Shocked by the frightfulness of the World War, the principal nations of the world planned to form some society for the prevention of the repetition of this great disaster. It was thus that the League of Nations was formed.

The aims of the League are the prevention of war, and it sponsors any other service that will benefit mankind, such as the suppression of the drug traffic, investigation of labor conditions, prevention of epidemics and many other objects. While the League has accomplished many great services to mankind, there are some points that are undoubtedly weaknesses and several others which are at least disputable. Possibly the greatest weakness is the self exclusion of the United States and Russia from the membership of the League. Without the co-operation of these countries the possibilities of advancement in disarmament and other major questions are destroyed as far as the League is concerned. It is also a hindrance to members, inasmuch as friendly relatives between both these bodies (the League and non-members), because of the clashing of opinions are prohibited. Many of the possible improvements in the League may be assured only by these non-members joining.

One of the means of strengthening the League is by the rather startling proposal forwarded by France for all nations to pool their armaments into an international army and navy. Another suggestion along this line is that the League of Nations form a worldwide police force. Another similar improvement is the limitation of armaments in proportion to the actual need. This has been practised more or less successfully during the last few years.

Important Requirement One important requirement of the League is broad-minded men of wide experience to serve in all its departments. This should be especially true in regard to the composition of the panel of the Permanent Court of International Justice, for it is by the decisions of this court that most people judge the League.

The proposal that the Covenant of the League should be revised to conform with the Kellogg Peace Pact has received considerable attention. As the Covenant now lies, war is optional, while practically all the nations have renounced war by the Peace Pact. In following the present constitution a unanimous decision is required before any legislation is passed. There is considerable difference of opinion on this point, many maintaining that a majority vote is sufficient. At present there is no efficient

Well Known Alice Arm Girl Flies to Anxox Wedding

ANYOX, Sept. 15.—The seaplane "Pintail," of Canadian Western Airways Co., Ltd., arrived in Anxox from Alice Arm early on Wednesday afternoon of last week. It was piloted by A. Cheeseman and Bill Faulkner was mechanic. They were accompanied by Miss Alice Kergin of Alice Arm, who experienced her first flight in the air. All three remained for the wedding of Clifford Cameron and Miss Doris Carter, departing the next morning.

inspection of armaments. This naturally breeds suspicion in international affairs. It would be a decided improvement if all armament facts were made known to all nations concerned.

If the world were divided into five divisions, namely, Pan-American, British Empire, Union of Soviet Republics, Pan-Asiatic Union and the United States of Europe, world governmental affairs could be much more efficiently administered. Each of these states would control internal questions, but international concerns would be attended to by the League of Nations.

The minds of thousands of people have been poisoned against the League by attacks such as those launched by Lord Beaverbrook lately. There should be some efficient system for the investigation of these and similar attacks and the suppression of such untruths. The objects and work of the League should form part of the education of all the people and consequently these attacks would have no effect on the League of Nations.

Among the problems causing great difference of opinion are the questions of international currency, or tariff reductions, League interference of war debts, going into a defensive war and the problem of granting a hearing to a minority. These are the main questions, and some of the suggestions offered to improve the League in its noble task. Already the League has done good work. Its work will be enhanced greatly if these improvements are carried out.

TERRACE

The Terrace Fair was held on Friday of last week. While the exhibits were not as numerous as in previous years, the roots and fruit showed a most luxuriant growth as well as testifying to the wonderful agricultural possibilities of this valley.

J. K. Gordon has had his most successful year in apple raising, having had an abundant crop, and has shipped several cartloads of apples already.

A number of residents of Lakelse Lake are very reluctant to give up their homes for the winter and are still enjoying the beauties of the Lake until the inclement weather comes.

Mrs. John McEae, who was up judging exhibits in the Fall Fair, returned to Prince Rupert on Friday.

Mrs. Martin McPherson of Lakelse Lake was the guest of Mrs. George Little prior to her leaving for Prince Rupert on Sunday.

Terrace in enjoying a little building boom and hammers and saws can be heard in almost every direction. Among buildings going up are a new picture show building for Fred Bishop, a new blacksmith shop for Clair Giggie, a new forestry office and a blacksmith shop and garage for George Little large enough so his large trucks might be driven under cover for repairs. A new office is also being built.

The George Little saw mill, which has been in constant operation all summer, is closed down a few days for repairs.

Ben Agar recently sold a new touring car to Mrs. Wm. Hagan of Vanarsdol.

The Bagley shows have just made their third visit to Terrace and the youngsters have thoroughly enjoyed it, especially the merry-go-round.

S. S. Phillips of Smithers was in town judging at the Fall Fair.

PEACHES IN TOMORROW

There has been quite a shortage of Okanagan peaches on the market this summer, only a few cartloads having rolled into Vancouver. This explains the shortage of this year of British Columbia peaches and the high price.

Washington preserving peaches will arrive tomorrow and will be about the last of the season.

THE MAN WITH THE "HAIR-TRIGGER" TEMPER

HE WAS irritable at the office, and grouchy at home. His enemies increased, his friends became fewer. Then one day his doctor told him the truth. He had been handicapped by constipation for years. It had brought headaches and constantly irritating pills to make him "touchy." It had stolen his energy and good nature.

His doctor suggested eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly. And in a few days he was changed man, cheery, ambitious—and on the road to success and happiness.

Constipation is so unnecessary. It can be overcome so easily, so pleasantly by eating delicious Kellogg's ALL-BRAN: a delightful, ready-to-eat cereal.

Two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily are guaranteed to prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation. In stubborn cases, serve ALL-BRAN with each meal.

Use this natural method and avoid the dangers of habit-forming pills and drugs. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron, which builds up the blood.

Serve ALL-BRAN with milk or cream, with fruits or honey added. Delicious when combined with canned peaches. Use in cooking too. Sold by all grocers in the familiar red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.
