FIRST PLANE IS RECALLED

Just Ten Years Ago Yesterday Since Pilot Prest Made First Ascent Over Prince Rupert

Local aviation enthusiasts recall that it was just ten years ago yesterday since the first airplane flight was made over Prince Rupert. The plane was an antiquated war-time Curtis biplane and the pilot was C. O. Prest, Nevada stunt flyer. In order to provide a landing field for the plane's stunt flights during Exhibition week, a rough runway was put in between Acropolis Hill grounds and the Prince Rupert Tennis Club's courts. Spectators were charged admission to see the plane take off and land from the grounds, and this was one of the big entertainment features of the week.

The plane was later wrecked in a gale on the Acropolis Hill grounds. Pilot Prest and L. M. Bach, who was his mechanic at that time, have gone ahead since then in the flying game, both being today important plane manufacturers in California.

For testing the resistance of steel cylinders a water pressure machine has been invented that can develop a pressure of a million pounds to the square inch.
