ITALY AND THE SOVIET

One of the most friendly nations to Russia, the home of communism, is Italy, the home of fascism. It is curious that after Italy had been saved from communism by the fascist revolution, under a former socialist leader, that country should be one of the first to hold out the hand of friendship and extend trade privileges. Only two years after Mussolini took control of the country as an absolute ruler he recognized the Soviet Union. Today the two countries have a trade agreement which is resulting in huge quantities of Russian goods being sold in Italy and is providing Italy with a market for instruments of production which Russia needs under her five-year plan and also provides work for Italy's shipbuilders.

There is a great similarity between the governments of Italy and Russia. In Russia the country is ruled by the communistic group with Stalin at its head. The party is a small section of the population of the country yet it holds supreme control. In Italy the country is ruled by the Fascisti with Mussolini practically an autocrat. There is no democracy in either country today. The average man has little say as to how or by whom the country shall be governed.

The lesson that Canada may learn from the action of Italy in making a trade agreement with Russia is that here is a nation that can take our manufactured goods and with whom we might trade advantageously. If Italy can make money by close association, we might do the same. The country cannot afford to turn any good customer away no matter what its religious or economic beliefs. Russia is our neighbor, connected with us by the Pacific Ocean and Prince Rupert should be particularly keen in trying to keep on good terms with her.

Royal Russian Chorus to Sing Here July 9, 17

Brilliant Program to Be Provided By Outstanding Organization Under Local Auspices

The outstanding feature of the local musical season will undoubtedly be the concert to be given here by the world-famous Royal Russian Chorus on July 9 and 17 at the Moose Hall under the management of the Gyro Club. With Princess Aerevena Slaviansky, as conductor, this remarkable group of singers and dancers will give our music and dance lovers a brilliant and thrilling program. Their National tour is being personally directed by Laurence A. Lambert, the well known New York and Hollywood impresario.

Although the choir is famous for its choral harmony, their work is not confined to singing, as they are very versatile. Half a dozen brilliant dancers are included in the organization, and a group of six of them will furnish orchestral accompaniments on the balalaika, those queer shaped, but beautiful sounding Russian stringed instruments that resemble the American mandolins, guitars and banjos, for some of the dance numbers.

Historic Choir

The organization of the original choir dates back to 1840, when Prince Dmitry Slaviansky was commissioned by the Russian Czar to draft 100 of the nation's best singers from the Imperial Opera House and Conservatory to form a choir.

An interesting feature of the present choir, a continuation of the original, is that some of its members have been affiliated with the organization from childhood, several of them being direct descendants of members of the original choir.

When Prince Dmitry died in 1908, the leadership of the choir was taken over by his daughter, who will appear here personally with the choir, and who is one of the few internationally recognized women conductors. Kusic critics and audiences have acclaimed her everywhere, as a genuine Princess, of regal mien, gracious personality and superlative musical ability.

Their local concerts on July 9 and 17 at the Moose Hall are made possible by the admirable enterprise and civic spirit of the Gyro Club, and it is anticipated that music lovers throughout the entire district will take advantage of this opportunity of hearing the wonderful program to be given by this distinguished group.

Miss Helen Hibbard has arrived in the city from her school teaching duties in the interior to spend her vacation here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hibbard.
