Basketball is booming in Prince Rupert but, apparently, most of the sport-loving public are ignorant of the fact. Since the game was reorganized early this month the teams have been turning in closely contested, thrilling games that have been liberally applauded by the spectators. But, if the game is to flourish this winter, the public Other American football scores will have to give the players and the association better support. The Auditorium is excellently outfitted for the best type of basketball. It is wonderfully heated and its seating capacity is large and well suited for good observation of the games. In fact, the conditions are perfect. It seems a shame that, with a hall so ideally situated and with such an excellent organization, the public is not according this endeavor for better support.

Senior Game Last night the senior game between 32 Taxi and C. N. R. was a thriller. The first half saw the teams evenly matched, playing cautiously, taking advantage of every break. However, it was soon quite apparent that one young man was having "a night out." In the first half he helped himself to eight of the 11 points scored by his team. In the meantime the toiling Taximan were pounding out a meagre five points. From these figures it would seem then that this erstwhile sharpshooter was himself the equal of the whole 32 team in marksmanship. He was by far the most useful player on the floor, back - checking, passing, shooting, dribbling and intercepting like a fiend. Who is he? Why Lambie himself, of course.
