BRITISH GOVERNMENT BREAKING UP NOW

NO WORD OF PLANE

Burke Machine Still Stranded Between Telegraph Creek and Hazelton

Government Telegraphs reported this morning that there was still no word of Pilot R. I. Van Der Byl and W. A. Joerss and Air Engineer Emil Kading, who took off at noon Saturday from Telegraph Creek for Hazelton en route to Vancouver but who failed to arrive that day.

If the plane of the late Capt. E. J. A. Burke was forced down again with engine trouble between Telegraph Creek and Hazelton, there is some speculation as to the chances there would be of lifting the ship off again from the snow in that region which is reported to be very wet and soft just now.

It is confidently felt, however, that the party is safe. They were carrying sufficient rations, it is understood, to last them considerable time should they be forced down and unable to get out. The stretch between Telegraph Creek and Hazelton is about the worst of the whole flight.

BIG ISSUE OF BONDS

United States Congress Approves $8,000,000,000 Measure

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 3.—Congress yesterday approved an administration measure providing for the floating of $8,000,000,000 bonds for refinancing of Liberty Bonds.

Taxation exemption was eliminated from the new bonds at the instance of the Senate although the House would have made them tax free.

Installing More Street Lights

Power Company Makes Proposition to City Council

A letter from J. J. Little, general manager of the Northern British Columbia Power Co., informed the city council last night that the company was prepared to erect fifty more ornamental lamp standards on new sidewalks at the same cost for energy as for the first fifty lights. This rate would be effective until May 1, 1932, when a charge of $15 per 100 candle power would be made. The lights would be erected as soon as the council made the requisition.

At the request of Ald. S. D. Macdonald, chairman of the utilities committee, the matter was referred to that committee for report, another conference to be held in the meantime with Mr. Little.

The first of the regular halibut fleet to arrive here this season with a catch was the Petersburg boat Zarembo, captained by P. K. Sather and manned with a crew of four owners, which came in yesterday afternoon. The Zarembo, however, did not sell here but, on learning that the United Pacific Fisheries concern was not yet doing business here, proceeded to Seattle to sell her catch.

The halibut boat Excel was also in port yesterday afternoon picking up a cargo of bait to be taken to Petersburg.

SEAL COVE SIDEWALKS

Council Discusses Necessities in Sympathetic Vein

Sidewalk necessities in the vicinity of Seal Cove came in for discussion at last night's meeting of the city council and the consensus of opinion was that the people here were entitled to some attention which they would get if finances permitted.

A recommendation from the board of works that an initiative bylaw be introduced for grading the easterly half of Seal Cove Circle to connect with Seventh Avenue East at an estimated cost of $3,000 was adopted after some discussion.

Canon W. F. Rushbrook protested at the idea of St. Peter's Church and its adjuncts being cut off from sidewalk communication. Ald. Rutherfordham replied that it was the intention to provide a cinder pathway from Seventh Avenue to the church.

George Kelsey told the council that sidewalk communication would also be required for people living on Fifth Avenue near Seal Cove. This matter was referred to the board of works.

Ald. Collart pointed out that finances would have to determine to large extent what work along this line could be done, and what could not.

SEES VISION FOR FUTURE OF RUPERT

Deputy Attorney General in Address to Gyro Points to Northern Port

A vision of Prince Rupert as one of the largest and most important cities on the Pacific Coast north of San Francisco was conjured up yesterday by Oscar Bass, K.C., deputy attorney-general, in an address at the Gyro Club luncheon in the Empress Hotel, says the Victoria Colonist in a recent issue.

Prince Rupert, he stated, was surrounded by large quantities of different kinds of raw material and was the logical city to attract the investor of the future. The Oriental market, from which the city already derived considerable benefit, was increasing rapidly, he added, and there was little doubt that more and more vessels would be carrying Canadian exports from Prince Rupert across the ocean in the future.

Council Informally Discusses Problem Still Confronting City

The city council after its meeting last night reviewed the unemployment problem at some length and after a long discussion in the course of which it was intimated that the city would have no funds to carry on after the end of March, the matter was referred to the finance committee for report at the next meeting.

Acting Mayor Collart introduced the subject, analyzing the figures in connection with the direct relief system and also dealing with individual cases in connection with indirect relief.

In the course of discussion it was stated that the men with long families were in many cases the least efficient at their work and therefore the least likely to hold their jobs.
