THE DAILY NEWS. PRINCE RUPERT - BRITISH COLUMBIA

Published Every Afternoon, Except Sunday, by Prince Rupert Daily News, Limited, Third Avenue H. F. PULLEN - - - Managing-Editor

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

SUBSURII HUM MAILS
By mail to all other countries, per year  By mail to all parts of Northern and Central British Columbia, paid in advance for yearly period  For lesser periods, paid in advance, per month  City delivery, by mail or carrier, yearly period, paid in advance  Or four months for  Legal notices, each insertion, per agate line  Transient advertising on front page, per inch	9.00 3.00 .50
Local readers, per insertion, per line	1.40
Classified advertising, per insertion, per word	.02
Contract rates on application.
Advertising and Circulation Telephone

DAILY EDITION

Member of Audit Bureau of Circulations

Editor and Reporters' Telephone

Monday, Feb. 2, 1931

* AS ALBERTA SEES PEACE OUTLET

Alberta is equally interested in the Peace River outlet with British Columbia because a large section, possibly the largest of that fine wheat growing area, is within that province. Here is how the Edmonton Journal sees it:

"It is hard to see how anyone could have expected the pleased to know she is now able B. C. government to undertake the completion of the P. G. to be about again after an attack E. to Peace River at this time. As Premier Tolmie made of flu. clear in announcing that it has no such intention the project would be beyond the province's financial ability. That PRINCE GEORGE it ever set out to build that railway, with Peace River as its ultimate objective, has always been a source of wonderment and can only be explained by the reckless optimism that then prevailed. The hope of securing direct rail con- of Trade with John McInnis, first nection between the Pacific Coast and the territory in vice-president; A. B. Moffatt, secquestion rests with the federal government, acting in co- ond vice-president; J. O. Wilson, operation with one or both of the transcontinental companies or possibly a new transportation body.

"Both the B. C. government and all concerned in the Johnson, E. J. Newman, W. L. Hornestablishment of the outlet are entitled to bank heavily on sby and Jacob Leith on the execu-Mr. Benentt's pledge at the opening campaign last sum- tive. mer. He repeated it in his speech at Regina the other day. Speaking in Edmonton on June 13 he declared that 'we must provide a Peace River outlet.' 'We owe that,' he ad-interest in the establishment of a ded, 'to Edmonton, we owe that to the Peace River coun-creamery here so that $2,000 per try, we owe that to the Pacific itself.'

"Financial conditions that have since arisen have made it much more difficult to carry out his promise in the immediate future. But just as soon as this is at all possible and it has been determined definitely what is the best course to pursue in implementing the pledge, he must make it good. There is no reason for thinking that he will fire. Damage to the building was break faith."

Had Two Weeks Campaign Here

Large Attendance at Lutheran try a little lightning. Church to Hear Rev. F. M. Fosse

Rev. F. M. Fosse of Bellingham turn into profits pretty soon. closed a two weeks' revival campaign in St. Paul's Lutheran Church last night.

He has had two meetings each day which have been well attended. Three Times: "Lovest Thou Me?" not be disappointed."

He sang two solos. The Varden Singers gave two splendid selecthe English language. A good subscription was taken up for the Lutheran boat mission. Money is coming in from U.S. and Canada. Rev. Mr. Fosse left today for I'm counted the wisest guy of them On his way back to Endako after Camrose, Alta. He will have a week's meetings at Camrose College and then at Camrose Lutheran Church. He has a number of invitations to other churches. Mr. Fosse is expected back here about March 1, when he will leave with Rev. J. H. Hanson to inspect the seaman's home at Ketchikan. When the Lutheran boat is built Rev. Fosse and Rev. Hanson will then try to erect a seaman's home here as they feel the need for one.

HAVE YOU TRIED A CLASSIFIED?

More and more people are turning to the classified columns of the Daily News to find what they want. Used cars, furniture for sale, lost and found, houses to rent or for sale, positions wanted. All sorts of things are advertised there. If you do not read the classified page, get the habit now. Try it today.

Man in the Moon

If anyone steals your thunder,

If you can't make profits today, cultivate good will. It may easily to skid into other people's business.

When told that a grain boat was ing, J. M. Johnston. The meeting last night was un- expected soon in Prince Rupert, usually well attended. Mr. Fosse Jake murmured, "Blessed is he that spoke on "Jesus Asking ePter expecteth nothing. Verily, he shall Times have been bad this winter but the mercury keeps up along The pastor made some remarks in with the price of some commodities.

> I keep my opinions all to myself, And then when the contest is

For I safely straddle the fence.

Jake announces definitely that it is out of the question for him to accept the position of governor general. He positively can't leave his duties here.

John: "Is that a second hand car you have?"

William: "Base flatterer!"

A darkey private was thrown from his mount and went sailing through the air. A telephone pole into which he crashed headlong terminated his flight.

"Great Scott, man," exclaimed an officer helping the recent flyer to his feet, "aren't you killed?"

"No sar," said the dusky soldier, 'Ah guess that post must'a broke and little if any snow.

The electrician said he received "Did the electric current go ternoon.

wrong?" "No, the door opened, and in came a lady in a nightdress."

District News TERRACE

Same Month in 1930 W. J. O'Neill, proprietor of the moving picture house at Smithers accompanied by his small son, was a business visitor to Terrace during the week.

Major Hearn of the Lakelse Hatcheries left for Prince Rupert on Tuesday and sailed on the Prince George Thursday for Victoria.

R. Brealy of the Laminated Materials Co., New Westminster was a business visitor in Terrace on Wednesday and Thursday last.

C. Merman of Ocean Falls arrived Saturday afternoon to take un residence for a while on his homestead at Lakelse.

The Hanson Lumber and Timber Co. is this week shipping ten cars of poles for export to the United States. There is also an increasng demand for lumber-the operations are being seriously retarded owing to the long continued mild and wet weather.

Mrs. O. T. Sundal, who has been indisposed, is very much better.

Friends of Mrs. George will be

C. C. Reid has been elected president of the Prince George Board secretary-treasurer, and H. G. Perry, John Assman, Karl Anderson, F. D. Taylor, W. L. Armstrong, J. H.

Fresh efforts are being started by the local board of trade to stimulate week may be saved from leaving the district for the purchase of dairy

Considerable damage was done to the stock in Oliver & Bennett's store on Third Avenue recently by

Anna Dahlgren has a long lead in the contest for Queen of the Snow at the forthcoming ski tournament here. Jeanne Corning is in second place and Mabel Embley,

VANDERHOOF

The following are committee of the Vanderhoof and District Board of Trade for the coming year: When driving through life try not Sambuel W. Crocker; publicity E. C. McGeachy; membership, H. V. Taylor; agriculture, C. Prout; min-

> Caleb Prout, farmer of this district, was awarded a prize at the recent Winter Fair in Vancouver for medium or late oats.

H. B. M. Valentin of Prince Rupert is to take over the operation of the Vanderhoof creamery and is now making preparations to reopen the plant.

a month's visit to the coast, Rev. William V. Sweetman paid a brief visit here last week.

Dr. R. Agnew, travelling dentist, spent all last week in Vanderhoof on professional business.

Charles R. Hood has returned to his home in the Stuart Lake country after having spent the past few months in Vanderhoof.

Rev. B. S. Prockter, local Anglican rector, held services yesterday at Stuart River as well as in Van-

Vanderhoof is experiencing one of tis mildest winters in years There are unusually heavy rains hockey teams played a return on Burrard Avenue. shock mending the electric bell. game at Fraser Lake yesterday af-dian agent in this district, is mak- yesterday.

The First Inklings of New Spring Styles

by Letitia Chaffee

"Know thyself" seems to be the first commandment for spring smartness . . . which suggests that French designers no longer believe the old fallacy that all women are created equal-or can by dieting achieve equality. Waistlines . . . instead of being where fashion says they must, regardless of ruinous results . . . are where they look most flattering. So, if the empire (or actually normal) waistline is most becoming . . . Molyneux is your authority. If the hip-bone line suits you best . . . follow Chanel. If you prefer the "in-between" . . . follow your own inclinations. The same leeway is allowed in skirt lengths. Proportion is the thing . . . and we may vary our hemlines inches one way or the other to suit our own particular vaga tes of height and build. Of course it goes without saying that knees remain invisible . . . no one must suspect we have them. Beyond that . . . write your own length ticket . . . adding extra inches as the sun sinks lower and the evening star appears. Evening gloves may take either the high road or the low . . . or may be dispensed with entirely.

Fabrics That Fashion Headlines for Spring

"It's smart to be dull and plain," say the new silks . . . dull in finish, not shade . . . plain in color, not weave. Weavers of all fabrics tend toward the intricate . . . with jacquards assuming a tremendous importance in woolens, chiffons, flat crepes, and even linens. Of course, it wouldn't be spring without prints. Toward fall each year, I for one feel that I never want to see another print . . . so tired do I become with their omnipresence. But each spring I gladly "print" myself again . . . as do the rest of womankind, it seems. This year diamond prints are threatening to replace the dots we have loved so long. One house is showing them in every size for sports and town wear . . . from tiny pin-head sizes to diamonds of playing card size or larger. Pastels combined with one, two or three shades of gray are decidedly new in prints for the coming season. Floral patterns of the "sweet" type appear in silk organdies and warp-printed mousselines (a crisp, taffeta-like silk) to carry on the romantic fashions of the winter and extend them into the southern resort and summer season. Woolens still continue to boom, on the style exchange . . . and are insinuating themselves into luncheon and tea parties and other dressy resort daytime functions. Of course they dress themselves up in luxurious new weaves . . . very sheer grounds in nets, leno laces, marquisettes, wool gauzes. Delicate tints, too, add to the summer formality of woolens-pale pastels, especially blue, being preferred, with pink, eggshell and water green also good. Checks and plaids, in navy and white . . . brown and white

. . . black and white . . . associate themselves with the less formal woolens for general town wear. Woolens for sports show the new "Algerian" colors . . . brilliant blues, vivid greens, rich orange and flaming red. Cotton in mesh weaves of varying sheerness are pronounced good.

Styles That Wing South

Perhaps it is to remind the lucky ones who loll in the southern sunshine of the northern snows they are missing . . . that white is so prevalent in modes for all types of resort wear. Entire white costumes . . . or white with a touch of color . . . should be the backbone of the southbound wardrobe. Bright red, too, is very important, alone or combined with white. It makes the background, too, for brilliant prints destined for beach pajamas, for afternoon costumes, for evening wear. Flannels stage a come-back in southern fashions this year . . . not only in the beautiful pastel shades for sports, but in navy and other dark colors for street wear. The pajama goes formal, and makes its appearance at simpler evening functions . . . though often only a keen eye could discern that it really is a pajama . . . so skirt-like and full are the trousers. The "grande dame" mode still prevails in the formal mode for the south . . . with flowers, fur and embroidery appearing frequently. Printed chiffens again are seen on the horizon for those who side-step winter . . . but they are a very luxurious edition this season . . . jacquard in effect. "Double-warp" chiffons and "faconne" chiffons they are sometimes called . . . and they have self-colored figures woven into their grounds. The figures may be large or small. The hats that go south will carry the stiffened brims that Paris is showing . . . wire around the edges so that they may be turned and curved, and remain stiffly in place.

Shoes Show a Dual Nature

Bicolored shoes are the latest note in footwear from Paris. Contrasting heels . . . such as a pastel shoe with a navy heel ... a jade slipper with a darker green heel ... a white slipper with back and heel of green are important examples. Two-toned shoes, showing two shades of the same color or strongly contrasting colors, are also going smart places. As to materials . . . pebbly silks, heavy flat crepe, marocain and flamenga are chosen for evening. For next spring, kid is predicted as the leader for daytime shoes . . . in the new dull finish now available in brown as well as black. Crocodile and frog register smartness for fashionable mornings. Lizard as a trimming appears on evening slippers. There is little change in the general lines . . . the vamp remaining fairly well rounded.

ing speedy recovery from an oper- Lief Erikson ation he underwent at Victoria recently, friends here have learned.

Harry Stokes has been repaint-Fraser Lake and Vanderhoof ing and repairing his barber shop Delightful Affair Saturday Evening there was the singing of a song es- Erikstad; third, B. M. Simpson.

There was special musical ser-William J. McAllan, original In- vice in the local United Church Mr. and Mrs. J. Moen, Tenth Avenue especially composed for the occa- Mr. Erikstad, the vice-president

sented a delightful appearance.

by the president, Mrs. G. Johnson, men's first, N. Jorstad; second, pecially composed for the occasion After cards, community single The annual banquet of the Lief and honoring B. M. Simpson, who vocal solos and instrumental number of Erikson Ladies' Club took place on organized the Lief Erikson Society bers were enjoyed. There were and Saturday evening at the home of here. There was another song also addresses by B. M. Simpson joyable affair indeed. The rooms the organization.

were beautifully decorated for the A whist drive followed the ball occasion and the banquet table pre- quet, prize winners being: first, Mrs. Nels Luth; second, Ma After a few remarks of welcome G. Johnson; third, Mrs. R. Johnson

East, and proved to be a most en- sion and touching upon the work of the Lief Erikson Society.