OLD SWIMMING HOLE SUBJECT OF PICTURE

Jack Pickford in "In Wrong" will be Much Enjoyed by Westholme Patrons.

"The Old Swimming Hole," famous in American song and story, is the opening scene in "In Wrong," Jack Pickford's new picture, distributed by First National and which will be shown at the Westholme Theatre tonight. Here one sees Johnny Spivens, the character played by Pickford, making his entrance by coming up from the depth.
On the shore sits his faithful dog, watching his clothes. Johnny, the driver of a grocer's wogan, has gone out past the edge of town to serve a distant customer, and has taken this opportunity to cool off on the hot summer's day on which the story starts. He goes home, lies to his mother about his plunge into the creek, and is whipped for it.
"In Wrong" introduces Jack Pickford as a poor lad with all sorts of ambition, who does not seem to be able to get ahead. After he has lost his girl to a city man, been "fired" from his job, and has seen his rival made the hero of the hour, his opportunity comes. Then he shows how to capture bank robbers with a no more pretentious weapon than a pitchfork.

The Man in the Moon SAYS:

THAT in regard to who will follow Borden as premier of Canada no less than six ministers look at the other and say, "It is I?"

THAT Sir Thomas White finds he can do more for the interests he serves by being on the outside and pulling the strings.

THAT George E. does not foster the idea.

THAT one minister is strongly of the opinion that it should be "Me" in'.

THAT having been anything but a success as a chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners Sir Henry Drayton finds himself eminently qualified for the premiership.

THAT Sir James Lougheed, having regard to his well known dislike to labor men and prohibition, should make an ideal leader of a great Government.

THAT J. A. Calder, who obeys the biblical injunction to be all things to all men, and especially to J. A., would be little worse than any of the others.

THAT Bob Rogers is really the man for the job, because everyone knows where Bob is.

THAT Bob would cure all the ills of the country because he would have his fingers on the medicine chest.

THAT Juneau had an excuse for going to sleep, having been rocked by an earthquake, but what excuse has Prince Rupert?

THAT the quake may have missed us, but there are rumblings of great things to come.

THAT it was stated at the police inquiry that there were leaks in the police station.

THAT a recent visitor to that popular institution found its source in the ceiling over the telephone.

THAT a joker says as long as George is a member of the force there will always be a "Leek" there.

PIONEER MISSIONARY WAS SERIOUSLY ILL

Rev. J. B. McCullagh, the pioneer Anglican missionary, who for forty years has been in charge of the mission at Aiyansh on the Naas River, has been seriously ill but is now out of danger. Owing to the strenuous and trying nature of the work he had a nervous breakdown.
Mr. McCullagh is a student of Indian life and language. He has written a good deal about the Indian languages on this coast and their similarity to other languages.
D. H. Beatty, of Kitwanga, was an arrival on last night's train.

BANK FOR ANYOX IS TO OPEN THIS WEEK

Canadian Bank of Commerce to Have Branch at Smelter Town.

A branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce is opening in Anyox this week. This bank does the business of the Granby Consolidated and as there is a large payroll there and no bank the new branch should prove to be a great convenience, not only to the company, but also to the residents of the town and district.

HAYSPOINT CANNERY HAS CHANGED HANDS

Maritime Fisheries, Ltd., are New Owners of Skeena Property.

D. T. Sandison, managing director of the Maritime Fisheries, Ltd., owner of the Aliford Bay cannery, announces that the company has purchased the Haysport property, on the Skeena River, 24 miles from Prince Rupert. It is believed that the acquisition of the property by a strong company like that headed by Mr. Sandison with expert knowledge of all branches of deep sea fisheries, will be an important factor in the advancement of the plant.

Don W. Peck was an arrival in town this morning from Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Embleton returned from the south this morning.

Mrs. I. N. Linnell arrived from the south this morning to spend some days visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Fisher, Fourth Ave. East.

The Pioneer sold her catch of halibut yesterday to the Pacific Sea Products Co. for 11c and 1.1c. She had 85,000 pounds. The Torkenskjold sold 75,000 pounds to the Cold Storage for the same price. The Tom and Al with about 50,000 pounds left for Seattle yesterday afternoon. The Alton landed 85,000 pounds.

AVOID ALUM IN FOOD
Baking Powder is one of the most important food ingredients. Alum or other injurious acids are frequently used by some concerns to lower the cost of production.
MAGIC BAKING POWDER
Contains No Alum
It is a pure phosphate baking powder and is guaranteed to be the best, purest and most healthful baking powder possible to produce.
W. Matthew Williams, in "Chemistry of Cooking," says: "Phosphates are the bone-making material of food and have something to do with building up of brain and nervous matter."

GLADYS LESLIE MISS DULCIE FROM DIXIE

Gladys Leslie, the star with the "million dollar smile," has a role well suited to her charming versatility in "Miss Dulcie From Dixie," in which she is a Southern girl who comes North to end a family estrangement of Civil War days and succeeds, and also wins the man she loves and a fortune. This Vitagraph picture, which will be seen in the Empress tonight is adapted from the popular novel of the same title by Lulah Ragsdale and was directed by Jos. Gleason.
