It's a good thing to have a sense of humor. Those who said. "But how is that?" go through life without it are like a machine without lubricant. They often squeak.

In a newspaper office, particularly, a sense of humor is essential. Without it life would be unbearable. The newspaperman knows that what President Lincoln said was true when he remarked that no matter how big a man be christened. might be his feet always touched the ground. They have an opportunity of noting the weak points in the people syman. with whom they come in contact. The remark attributed to a well known clergyman that "Brother Jones is very answered. powerful in prayer but a terrible liar," applies to folks "it's Kate and Sydney." everywhere. All have their weaknesses, even those who have dedicated themselves to the cause of religion. Human nature is about the same everywhere but it often shines forth at its best in places consdered most unlikely.

Tolerance and humor go hand in hand. To be a humorist a person must be tolerant. He must be able to smile at the foibles of the great, to bear without apparent boredom the idle chatter of the light headed, to feel his risibil- quah Chief property, of which so ities affected when he notes the vacillation of those who much was heard last year and the serve the public politically as they trim their sails to the year before. In a small vilalge in Ireland, the mother of a soldier met the village priest, who asked her if she had bad news. "Sure. I have." she said. "Pat has been killed."

"Oh, I am very sorry," said the priest. "Did you receive word from the war office?"

"No," she said, "I received word from himself."

A really conclusive test ot radio value

Here is the opportunity to judge radio on nothing but facts — facts which establish the highest standards radio has ever been called upon to face.

HROUGH the breadth and rigidity of the "7-Point" test, Radio Performance Week provides you with the means for choosing your radio safely and wisely. Here is a real test . . . tangible . . . severe . . . conclusive - an infallible yardstick for measuring all the essentials of radio satisfaction and value.

The "7-Point" test eliminates the influence of exaggerated claims. It eliminates the glamor of extravagant phrasing. It eliminates everything but facts - hard and fast facts. Performance, and only performance, can meet the rigid requirements of this test.

Use Radio Performance Week. September 25-October 3... to remove all doubt in choosing your radio. We believe that critical application of the "7-Point" test will establish one radio as outstanding in quality, beauty, value and performance - Super-Heterodyne Victor Radio . . the advanced Super-Heterodyne!

Your Victor dealer is featuring special demonstrations every day during Performance Week. Visit him today. Consider facts . . , then lecide.
