FALL FAIR ASKS HELP

Terrace Board of Trade Takes Up Matter-Dr. Mandy's Lectures Appreciated

of the Terrace Board of Trade met in the municipal hall last Tuesday night, J. K. Gordon presiding over a large attendance.

After a good deal of correspondence had been gone through, an application from the Fall Fair for assistance was dealt with.

The chairman said the fall fair association was finding it difficult to raise the necessary funds to hold an exhibition this year and it wished the help of the board especially in the way of extending the membership.

Various suggestions were put forward one being for a special prize and another for a board of trade trophy, but it was finally agreed to refer the matter to the president to confer with the agriculture committee and report to the quarterly meeting of the board to be held this week.

The question of a "buy-at-homecampaign" was referred to the quarterly meeting and a recommendation of the civic affairs committee aiming at the development of the park as a playground was referred to the local commissioners.

At this stage the secretary nounced his intention to resign but promised to retain the office during the current month. Several members spoke with regret at Mr. Halliwell's decision and passed enconiums on his service to the board.

Mr. Hepburn intimated that the Hon. R. W. Bruhn, minister of pub-Hic works, was expected to visit the district shortly and on the motion of Mr. Kenney it was agreed to offer the minister a fitting welcome, the arrangements being left to the entertainment committee.

H. L. Frank, president of the local Farmers' Institute, was a visitor and, on the invitation of the chairman, addressed the meeting stresswhich he assured the meeting was Terrace Sunday which he assured the meeting was seeking to promote the best interests of the farmers of the district to the best of their ability.
