

Could You fill Your Husband's Shoes?

TOMORROW — could you "carry on" in your husband's shoes? Could you earn his income, in addition to caring for your home and children?

Probably not—and it is just for contingencies like this that Life Insurance was created. No one can accurately foretell the future, but everyone can provide for it. The earnings of the breadwinner need not suddenly stop—they can be continued with the aid of Life Insurance.

Perhaps you have discouraged your husband from providing the protection necessary for you and your children. If so, you would be wise to reflect on this fact:

"If every wife knew what every widow knows, every man would have adequate Life Insurance."

In literally millions of cases, Life Insurance has proved "The Love That Never Dies". It is the means by which every man can make certain that his family will be cared for—always.

Today is not a day too soon to talk over the future with your husband—or, better still, call in a Life Insurance Representative to discuss your mutual problem.

Women's Institute At Terrace Meets

TERRACE, April 6:—The Women's Institute held its monthly meeting on Saturday, Mrs. McCarthy presiding over a fair attendance. A letter from the Fall Fair Board asking the Institute to take charge of the liquidation of the deficit on the last exhibition was received and discussed. The proposal was not adopted, but it was agreed to give a grant.

Letters of commendation from the Provincial Board of Health were read thanking the Institute for the excellent work done by the health booth at the last fair and urging the continuation of the work. It was decided to work for the promotion of another health booth at the 1931 fair.

Mrs. Halliwell reported on the work of the child's welfare branch and the report was received.

Prince Charles Is Improved As Result of Work

Most important of a number of improvements made on the Canadian National steamer Prince Charles during its stay at the local dry dock during the past winter was the filling in of a formerly open deck on both sides of the main deck amidships. This is a distinct improvement both in the way of comfort for passengers and general appearance of the ship.

The Prince Charles sailed last night for Vancouver, inaugurating the company's twice-a-week service between here and Vancouver for the spring.

Twenty Years Ago

In Prince Rupert

April 6, 1911

Premier Walter Scott of Saskatchewan and J. M. Young, vice-president of the Regina Board of Trade, were visitors in Prince Rupert yesterday. They were shown around the city by Fred Dawson, Fred Stork, A. J. Morris, G. R. Naden, A. M. Manson and Dr. H. E. Tremayne before sailing last night on the Prince Rupert for Vancouver.

The strike of grading laborers seems to be about over although there are still murmurings. All men necessary are now available at $3 per day. A. O. Morse, secretary of the Prince Rupert Industrial Association, has been warned that the police will not allow interference with any work that is going on.

Prince Rupert Club beat Wanderers Club 750 to 573 in billiards last night. For the Wanderers' Club A. E. Oakley, S. P. McMordie and Joseph Howe were the players and for the Prince Rupert Club Magistrate Alfred Caras, J. H. McMullin and Frank Mobley.
