

Bank Robbery--- Four Murders--- Doctor Killed

The wounded bandit in custody

His mark caught him

On May 28, 1928, four bandits robbed a bank in Lamar, Colorado. They killed two officers. Then, in escaping with a wounded bandit, they killed the doctor who treated the wound. This atrocious crime aroused two states to action.

doctor's car. Police records proved that this mark belonged to a robber who called himself, among other names, Jake Fleagle. Thus the whole gang was identified, and three were hanged.

Fleagle himself, after a chase of two years, was wounded in resisting arrest and later died. All because a finger touch left its print on a piece of glass.

So You Leave Marks

This is told to indicate how you leave imprints on everything you touch. Those imprints are germ-laden. You leave them on the toast you butter, on a piece of candy, on a stick of gum.

The germs in those imprints may have been picked up by touching things which others touched with contaminated hands. Life Extension Institute lists 27 diseases which may be conveyed in this way. A cold, for instance, may be passed to many people—by a handshake.

When you carry such germs to your food—by a touch—they breed and multiply. That is something to think about.

Safety and Luxury

Lifebuoy is a luxurious toilet and bath soap, based on two palm oils. No soap ever created does more for the skin and complexion. But it also contains a germicide which other fine soaps lack. Tests show that no germs, alive and active, are left after its application.

Don't touch food, or anything which enters the mouth, until your hands are made antiseptic. Partial germ removal is not sufficient. You must either kill or make inactive all the germs that threaten.

Lifebuoy gives you luxurious, creamy lather. You never used a more delightful soap. But the odour is not a perfume. It's a refreshing scent that spells safety. It disappears in a few minutes, but it tells you that your hands are free from germs.

After using Lifebuoy in a bath, your whole body is exempt from offensive body odour. Is not such protection worth more than perfume to you?

Many millions of people, the world over, think so. Your dealer has Lifebuoy for you.

WRINCH'S WARNING

Fears Alaska Highway May be Another P. G. E.

OTHER MATTERS

If it moves too fast in building the proposed Alaska highway, British Columbia will find itself with another P. G. E. and all the attendant expenses and grief on its hands, Dr. H. C. Wrinch, Liberal of Skeena, warned the Legislature in Victoria last week.

While the road would run directly through his own constituency and probably start at his own town of Hazelton, Dr. Wrinch declared provincial interests as a whole must be protected from a vast expenditure which British Columbia could not afford at this time.

"The initiative for this scheme," he said, "comes from the United States. If any member of this House had suggested a project which would cost perhaps $16,000,000, he would have received no encouragement. If we were to build this road ourselves the results would not justify the heavy expense involved. We are paying thousands of dollars a day because of our enthusiasm in constructing the P. G. E. How much less could we expect returns on our money from a road so much further removed from civilization? We should hold our horses until we can enter into such a scheme with safety."

As the proposed road would join two parts of the United States, Dr. Wrinch urged that Canada's international interests must be safeguarded, and the matter thus was primarily one of federal concern. The next move should come from the United States, he believed, and he warned the government not to commit the province too far at this stage.

Road Policy

Dr. Wrinch in a thoughtful speech recommended that roads in the newer parts of the province be built for length rather than width, and criticized engineers for spending too much money to construct wide roads at the expense of distance.

"Give us more mileage," he pleaded. "Let us open up the country." He added that in this he was frankly opposed to the views of other Liberals who had suggested that no new roads be built until existing roads had been improved.

Dr. Wrinch congratulated the government on its unemployment relief work in his riding but said more was needed. From Hon. R. W. Bruhn, minister of public works, he secured a promise to consider the Skeena situation carefully without delay.

As a medical man, Dr. Wrinch strongly advocated a psychopathic hospital, which Hon. S. L. Howe, provincial secretary, said would be built just as soon as it could be financed.

NO WORD OF PLANE

Joeress, Van Der Byl and Kading Still Unreported

Pilots R. I. Van Der Byl and W. A. Joeress and Air Engineer Emil Kading, attempting a flight from Atlin to Vancouver, were still unreported last night after having left Atlin on Monday morning with the expectation of arriving either at Hazelton or Burns Lake the same evening.

While no particular alarm is felt as yet for the safety of the party since their plane was well found in anticipation of emergency. It is presumed they may have landed for some reason and will resume the flight soon. However, if they do not report soon, it is expected a search will be launched.

The plane is that of the late Capt. E. J. A. Burke. Flying conditions are reported to have been favorable since the departure was made from Atlin.

Under the auspices of the Prince Rupert Liberal Association, an educational address on the subject of "Reciprocity" was given in the McIntyre Hall last night by J. C. Cowper. At the conclusion of the address, a resolution, moved by G. R. Naden, and Dr. W. T. Kergin, endorsing the principle of Reciprocity was unanimously passed. The resolution is being wired to Ottawa.

The Canada Cement Co. has absorbed 11 cement companies, the smallest of which had capital of $50,000, into one great $38,000,000 firm.

Claiming that the work is so hazardous that there should be much higher pay, men employed on the Kitselas Canyon railway tunnel have gone on strike. Machinists demand $5 per day and muckers, $5.50. Eight men have been killed in the work during one month.

SUMMER ON NAAS RIVER

Winter Has Been Like That, Native Visitor Reports—Stream Has Not Frozen Over

Johnny Russ, well known native citizen of Greenville, on the Naas River, reports that the winter in the Upper Naas valley this year, like in the rest of the country, has been more like summer. Whereas, it is usually frozen over for a couple of months or so clear down to tide-water near Mill Bay, the Naas River has been frozen over at no time this winter, even as far up as beyond Alyansh.

Neither has the Upper Naas had its usual heavy fall of snow this winter. Practically no snow has fallen at all during winter and none has stayed on the ground.

Mr. Russ, who is here to buy a planer for the sawmill at Greenville, came down the Naas River himself in a boat. They usually walk on the ice at this time of year.

D. C. Stuart has been appointed census commissioner for Skeena in connection with the decennial Dominion census which is to take place this year. John Flewin was census commissioner for Skeena in 1921.
