National Government Puts Through Bill to Regulate Imports

LONDON, Nov. 17:—The National government put a bill through Parliament yesterday giving the administration special powers to regulate foreign imports coming into the country. The purpose of the bill is to regulate the flow of imports that has been coming with a view to forestalling possible action in respect to tariff that may be decided upon by the national government.

The report of the United States census, now complete, casts no light on the workings of prohibition.—Quebec Telegraph.
