Keep Coffee Roaster Going

Stewart and Mobley Putting on Campaign to Sell "Supreme Coffee" to Local People

The local wholesale firm of Stewart and Mobley Ltd. has for a number of years been selling "Supreme" coffee, ground in their own mill and blended by their own experts. It is exactly what its name suggests "supreme" among coffees but it has not been advertised much and many people did not even know there was a commercial coffee roaster in the city. Now they are to know, they are to taste and appreciate, if the efforts of the local firm are successful.

Stewart and Mobley Ltd. believe that once local people are fully aware that they can buy a home-made product just as cheaply and of equal quality they will give the local firm a chance to supply them. Experts say that "Supreme" coffee is second to none. Coffee drinkers declare it to be just what they like for breakfast or for late suppers.

By buying "Supreme" the local roaster is kept running, local people are given employment, a local firm gets an opportunity to make an honest dollar and Prince Rupert is benefitted. When ordering just say "Supreme."

History of the town of Fort St. John in the Peace River Block is reviewed in an article by Mrs. Bett Bowers in the magazine section of the last Vancouver Sunday Province. Fort St. John was originally started in 1880 as a trading post and was wiped out when Indians burned the post and killed the factor to obtain liquor stored there. In 1896 prospectors on their way to the Yukon in the gold rush passed there on the overland route.

Two Free Booklets for You

To learn all about this good milk write for "Contented Babies" and the Carnation Cook Book—two very interesting booklets. Address Carnation Co., Limited, 134 Abbott St., Vancouver.

The Milk of Many Uses

Carnation is super-digestible because it is heat-treated and because homogenization makes the cream globules one thousand times as tiny and evenly distributes them through the milk. So for cooking, Carnation is super-smooth, improving the texture and consistency of milk dishes besides adding richness and flavour. Use Carnation in cream soups, sauces, custards, cocoa, ice cream, candy. Enjoy its creamy double-richness—and economy—with coffee, fruits or cereals.

THINK! Carnation is fine, natural milk, safeguarded at the source. It has every nutritional quality of the best bottled milk—plus the priceless advantage of super-digestibility! Not only dependably rich in vitamins, but also easier to digest than raw, boiled or pasteurized milk. What a wonderful food for your baby . . . endorsed by many foremost specialists not just for healthy babies but for babies unable to digest milk in any other form.
