RIGHT BACK TO WORK

« « Those who insure their lives help indirectly to bring comfort and happiness to thousands of people, apart from the beneficiaries immediately concerned.

They provide largely the funds for public and private enterprise-railroads, farms, utilities, factories-all those collective activities which mean work and pay rolls.

Life insurance tolerates no idle dollars.

Its very existence depends on the prompt re-investment of every dollar received in premiums, for the benefit of the policyholders. These dollars, like water passing through a power house, turn the mighty turbines of trade assand then, released, flow on to bring happiness to distant valleys.

While in trust with the insurance company, they turn the wheels of industry, and return at last to the policyholder or his beneficiaries, bringing to the aged or bereaved welcome freedom from financial hardship. Like mercy, life insurance "blesses him that gives and him that takes"-not only those whose future it safeguards but all whose fortunes are linked with those vital economic enterprises that it stimulates and maintains.

The Sun Life Company has over Two >>> Hundred Millions of dollars invested in Canadian enterprises alone.
