Andrew Miller of Mud River has been committed for trial by Stipendiary Magistrate N. P. Moran here on a charge of receiving money from the Caledonia Fire Insurance Co. by false pretences. The charge grew out of a fire which destroyed the Miller dwelling at Mud River in January 1930 when Miller claimed one hundred percent of $1700 insurance which he carried, representing that the house and its contents had been entirely destroyed. Now it is alleged that most of the contents were removed from the building before it was destroyed.
