DAILY EDITION. Tuesday, Dec. 30, 1919.

Subsidising the Family.

The experiment being tried by the New South Wales Government in arranging for the establishment of a fund for the maintenance of the children of the workers' families will be watched with keen interest by parents throughout the Empire. In these days of high costs, this equalising payment would be very welcome in homes outwith New South Wales. The disadvantage under which the married man labors compared with his single brother, is notorious. And the more so the man with the family growing larger and bigger all the time. The cost of raising a family in this generation is considerably more than in the last and is increasing. Children are an asset to the state and ought to be the most cherished possession of every parent. But many find they can't afford them and frankly say so, although if they knew it, they cannot afford not to, financial embarrassments notwithstanding. That the State should in this fitting way recognise the responsibility which the parents have taken upon themselves in these days is only right and proper.

Taxing the Bachelors.

There have been at many times proposals to tax the single men. They have usually no one to keep except themselves, while on the other hand a family of four, six or eight have to be fed, housed and clothed off the same amount of wages which the single man receives. The inequality is apparent. Many men, of course, would be quite willing to be taxed to preserve their single blessedness, either from not knowing any better or for some other reason. And as many more are quite willing to be married, but cannot see the way clear. They are those of little faith. The knowledge that a man's wages were to be according to the necessities of his family would ease the strain under which every paterfamilias suffers if not all the time, at least some time or other.

Increased Cost of Wheat.

The advance authorised by the Canadian Wheat Board in the prices of both wheat and flour, with its consequent rise in the cost of the loaf is a thing that concerns everybody, but the family man most of all. This constitutes an indirect tax on the whole community, but which will be felt directly, as everyone eats bread. It will affect the man with the family most, because he has to pay for the more loaves. A rather strange thing in connection with this order is, however, in order that the consumer may have the advantage of the cheaper flours of the United States, permits for the importation of the American products will be issued. This is notwithstanding the balance of trade already being heavily against Canada. Canada does not want to import American flour. She wants to export Canadian flour—but not before her own wants are supplied. Standard flour only is being milled in Canada now, but the standardisation in the United States has lapsed and white flour is being milled there, as in pre-war days. Under these permits, the cheaper American white flour will compete against Canadian standard flour. That is, of course, provided the American flour proves to be cheaper at the present rates of exchange, which any further importation from the United States will not help to strengthen.

No Titled Aristocracy.

That the usual batch of knighthoods and other so-called dignities are to be withheld from this democratic Dominion by King George at this time of the year customary for their bestowal upon exalted subjects, will no doubt cause serious disappointment in certain quarters. It is the wish of the people of Canada, however, expressed by Parliament, and the King has deferred to the wishes of the people. Not that it really mattered much, however, whether knights and baronets here were as common as colonels in the southern States, but the whole idea of titles belongs to a by-gone age. In Canada a man is judged by his worth as a man, not by his name. The relics of past centuries and the feudal age have little interest for Canadians. To them belongs the present—and the future.

RHEUMATISM FOR OVER 16 YEARS

No Return Of The Trouble Since Taking "Fruit-a-lives"

103 CHURCH ST., MONTREAL.
"I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism for over 16 years. I consulted specialists; took medicine; used lotions; but nothing did me good. Then I began to use "Fruit-a-lives", and in 15 days the pain was easier and the Rheumatism much better. Gradually, "Fruit-a-lives" overcame my Rheumatism; and now, for five years, I have had no return of the trouble. I cordially recommend this fruit medicine to all sufferers."
