

Palpitation of the Heart Could Hardly Get Around

Mrs. Charles Stornes, R.R. 5, Picton, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with palpitation of the heart; couldn't sleep, day or night, and was so weak I could hardly get around."

After taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I was greatly relieved of these attacks.

My mother also has great faith in them and finds no other medicine can help her so much for heart trouble.

I can assure you that Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are a wonderful healer."

PRICE OF FAME AND RICHES

Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh seem to have paid the price for fame and riches. The whole world is sympathizing with them in the loss of their young son, done to death in such a dastardly manner.

Where there is a system under which some people are very rich and others very poor and where there seems to be a general contempt for law, a section of the community setting it at defiance, crimes such as this are likely to happen at any time.

It should be pointed out that Canada's skirts are not very clean in this connection. For years the Doukhobors had been allowed to openly defy the authorities and there are tendencies in other quarters to do things which are contrary to the law of the land. These tendencies are interpreted by the criminally inclined as weaknesses and encourage them to try to emulate.

Had Lindbergh been a poor man, he would probably have had his young son alive today and yet he would have looked with envy on those richer than himself.

COMPARATIVE TAXES

Last year it is said that while the United States paid only $11 per head of the population in taxes, Great Britain paid $77 per head of her population. Yet United States is said to be a richer country than Britain with larger average incomes.

This year part of the difference will be made up by the greater imposts levied in the United States. In Canada too, with all the taxation increases, the payments per head will be nothing like as high as they are in Britain.

Britain bore the brunt of the fighting during the war and bore also the great burden of the costs. Yet that country, through the manner in which the people are meeting their difficulties, is the first to begin to feel the move toward better times. It is an object lesson in public spirit.

When the Ottawa conference meets it is probable that some Empire plan will be evolved that will help the British Dominions toward a return to improved industrial and trade conditions. All Canadians will join in supporting the Canadian government in any measures which will tend to bring about an improvement, but in the meantime it seems to be a very general opinion here that a forward domestic policy would help matters. It is to be hoped that the Bennett administration will see its way clear to commence work this year on a western railway from the Peace through British Columbia.

NOTE OF OPTIMISM

Editor, Daily News—Please permit me space in your valued paper to offer to my fellow citizens of Prince Rupert a word of optimism and good cheer.

At the present time, we, in company with other citizens of our province, as well as the rest of Canada, are suffering from the results of a world-wide economic depression. In my humble opinion it is not an insurmountable difficulty. We have a very great deal to be thankful for.

I have just returned from a visit of one month to Vancouver and its immediate surroundings. While there I made it my special business to enquire closely into general economic conditions as they exist particularly in Vancouver for the express purpose of arriving at a basis of comparison with conditions as they exist here in our own fair city. I found that there is comparatively little work going on in the south and, with the exception of half-a-dozen or so instances, no new construction work. There are hundreds of vacant stores and offices.

While I recognize that the mere fact of some other place being a bit worse off than ourselves does not lessen our difficulties, my observations convinced me that we are in truth and in fact a great deal better off in many, many ways. I found that the cost of living in Prince Rupert is just as low generally as it is in Vancouver, indeed in a number of instances it is lower. Therefore I recommend to my fellow citizens that they spend their money at home where it will do the most good. Stand by one another, buy in Prince Rupert and insist on being supplied with the goods that are grown in and manufactured in our own section of this province. My investigation convinced me that there is none better.

You can depend on it that I talked Prince Rupert all the time and found that every man spoke to had a very friendly disposition towards our city and district and great expectations for our future success. It is the general opinion among the business men there that the proposed pulp mill will be built here at no very distant date. The project is generally highly thought of.

I have done fairly well in Prince Rupert and have always had great confidence in the future of our city and after twenty-two years residence here I have come back from my trip with greater confidence than ever. Let us all do our utmost to pay our taxes and hold our property. Let us "dig in" right where we are. There is nothing to the idea that there are greener pastures across the fence or over the hill. My trip has at least convinced me that with courage and perseverance we will soon overcome our difficulties.

REGIMENT IS WINNER

Football Game last Night Ended in Score of Six to Nil Against H. M. C. S. Vancouver

M. C. S. Vancouver

The Regiment team of local Senior Football League outplayed an eleven from H. M. C. S. Vancouver in the second half on the Acropolis Hill grounds last evening to win the match by a score of six to nil. The locals scored one goal in the first half and five in the second. Despite the one-sided score, interest was well sustained throughout the match and the Navy players gave a good account of themselves. It was a cold and damp evening and the crowd of fans was not as large as there would have been had conditions been better.

Referee Bowring of H. M. C. S. Vancouver handled the whistle and Campbell and Blake were linemen. The teams were as follows:

H. M. C. S. Vancouver—Langlois; Hibbert and Woods; McKinnon, Dovey and Corbin; Whitehouse, Caverley, Marr, Williams and Corbett. Regiment—Ted Smith; Bronson Hunt and Bishop Thurber; Phil Edgecumbe, Mark Watson (captain) and Hardy; Alex Walters, Jock Redpath, A. Dickens, Oscar Wingham and Billy Vance.

It was a clean game throughout and in the first half the teams appeared to be fairly evenly matched. The feature of play were several splendid runs down the right wing by Alex Walters who put over some fine crosses which were not taken advantage of by the inside men. The first goal came after 25 minutes of play when Walters, after one of his fast runs down the right wing, centred to Jock Redpath who met it fairly and crashed in a lovely shot which struck the cross bar with the goal keeper beaten and rebounded to Dickens who had no difficulty in converting it for the first goal.

Second Half

Throughout the second half the Regiment pressed continuously on the Navy goal. During the entire period only one shot was handled by Smith, the Regiment goalie, this coming about five minutes before time. Early in the half, Redpath made a splendid shot which was just over the cross bar. Six minutes after the start of the period Dickens scored from a centre by Walters. Wingham went to outside left and Vance took up inside duty, the latter adding the third for the Regiment two minutes later. At 20 minutes Dickens scored his own third and the fourth for the Regiment with a splendid 20-yard drive which had the goalie beaten when it left Dickens' toe. Redpath passed to Walters who came down fast on the right wing, his parting shot flashing in front of the goal mouth with no one there to finish. Dickens tried a header but the goalie caught and cleared. Dickens added the fifth for Regiment with a simple shot, making it four for himself. Following this, Dickens went to full back and Hunt went centre forward to try his luck, being rewarded one minute later by making the sixth goal for the Regiment. Regiment continued the pressure right up to the end.

The game was always interesting and the Navy team never let up trying. With the ball in their favor in the first half, the Vancouver players made several good movements but over-anxiety in front of the goal spoiled several chances to score. As it was Ted Smith was easily able to handle everything that

PICTURE OF NAVY

Thrilling Action and Pretty Romance Make "Suicide Fleet" Entertaining Picture

Thrilling action, colorful spectacle, a strong story and sterling performances by a capable cast combine to make "Suicide Fleet," week-end feature offering at the Capitol Theatre, a very acceptable and entertaining picture. It is a story of the navy and uses not one single battleship, but a veritable fleet. There is some very realistic battle action in the picture and also some pretty and interesting romance.

Bill Boyd, Robert Armstrong and James Gleason take the parts of three sailors in the Navy who love the same girl and who, eventually, become enlisted in the "suicide fleet" after a submarine sinks. Pretty Ginger Rogers is the leading woman. United States Navy ships and men are used to a large extent in the picture.

The Philadelphia Athletics continued their recent forward movement by defeating the St. Louis Browns.

The Chicago Cubs built up their National League lead to two and a half games by defeating their nearest rivals, the Boston Braves, in a close game. Brooklyn Dodgers advanced to sixth place above the idle New York Giants by defeating the Cincinnati Reds. St. Louis Cardinals almost made fourth place by scoring a decisive victory over the slipping Phillies.
