Winter Visitors to See Bible Dramas

OBERAMMERGAU, Ger., Jan. 22: Winter visitors to the Passion Play village will see a series of biblical plays presented by the villag- Dill Pickles-Libby's ers. While the Oberammergauers present their famous Passion Play Cottage Rolls—Boneless only once a decade, they don't forget the drama in years between. Winter nights are spent in producno ing old and modern religious plays, and these serve as rehearsels for 5c the Passion Play.

The first play will be Lissauer's 'Jephthah's Wife," on February 10. Alois Lang, the Christ of the 1930 Passion Play, will take the part of Simon, Hugo Rutz, the 1930 Caiaphas will play Jephthah, and the part of his wife will be taken by Klara Mayer, who alternated in the last play as Mary Magdalene.
