ACCUSED OF STEALING

A correspondent of the Daily News accuses the canneries of stealing from the fishermen because the canneries paid less for their fish last year than they did the year before. What was forgotten by our correspondent was that the year when those large prices were paid was the year that brought big losses to the canneries in some cases almost amounting to ruin.

We all like to see the fishermen get good prices. The businessmen particularly are pleased because it means that the fishermen have more money to spend when they are earning big money. Today when the fishermen, like the farmers and all other producers, are earning practically nothing and in many cases losing money, the merchants also find themselves very hardy pressed and in many cases losing money rapidly.

The canneries in 1930 paid more for their fish than the market warranted and their loss was heavy. Naturally they refuse to operate this year unless they can see a way of at least breaking even. Also the fishermen are looking for the best possible price for their product and they usually earn more than they get. Anything they can do to improve conditions is worthy of general support.

All we suggest is that in discussing questions of this kind we be moderate in our language and keep to facts. Also we suggest that because high prices were paid one year is no reason to think the same should be done all the time. Just now prices must be low for fish because all food-stuffs are low in price. We heard recently of eggs being sold at Swift Current at four cents a dozen. That is no reason why eggs should always sell at four cents but it is a reason why fish cannot be very high in price because the average person would rather have a dozen eggs than a pound of fish.

Today everybody is having a hard struggle to live. It is a period of discipline when we have to deflate our extravagant ideas and get down to earth.

CURIOUS EFFECT OF CONDITIONS

The present condition is one that sets people thinking whether or not we are on the right track governmentally. People of a certain type of mind turn to Karl Marx as the prophet who will lead them into the Promised Land. They are hurt by the difficulties of life as they meet them today and they feel that with a change of conditions things might be better and could not be worse. That is always the condition of affairs during a period of deflation.

Several hundred years ago there was a bad time in Britain and the Chartists tried to reform the world. Most of the things they asked for have since been granted but they came gradually. In France they had a revolution but we have not noticed that the French people found any more liberty in their republic than did the people of Britain in their monarchy.

Today all socialists and communists, known generally as "Reds," point to Russia, but they get no great solace from conditions there. The country is developing and the condition of the people is improving, for which we are all thankful, but the revolution did not give them much better living conditions and today they have a long way to go before they reach the standard that prevails in Canada. And the governmental conditions can be changed in Canada in such a manner as to gradually improve the lot of the people just as is being done in Russia and without that visionary revolution of which the Communists dream.

Some people are born revolutionists. The average Canadian, however, is far different. He is an evolutionist, who believes in gradual improvement of the mass of the people. It should not be difficult to legislate in such a manner as to see that, when there is plenty of food in the country, no person should be without the possibility of being able to earn his living. To that we are all aiming and it does not need a revolution to bring it about. Already proposals have been made for a levy on capital and doubtless this will be done if it is found that there are too many people who are inordinately rich. The power is in the hands of the people through its constituted authority to do almost anything they wish. But the power does not lie with a few revolutionists to force their views on the rest of the country.

DISCOURSE ON DRUGS

Interesting Address Delivered Before Gyro Club by A. W. Morrow of Walkerville, Ontario

A. W. Morrow, chemist for the Parke-Davis Co., well known drug manufacturing concern, who is here conducting investigations into the possibilities of medicinal use of halibut liver oil, was an interesting speaker before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club at luncheon yesterday. Although dealing with rather technical matters, Mr. Morrow was able to hold the rapt attention of his listeners throughout his talk. The speaker described the products turned out by his company at its large laboratories and factories at Walkerville, Ontario, and traced step by step the machinery used in the manufacture of drugs: from the raw down to the finished product. Mr. Morrow referred briefly to the subject of halibut liver oil possibilities here.

The meeting was favored with violin solos by Bert Cameron, accompanied by Charlie Balagno. William Cruickshank, president of the club, was in the chair.

Man in the Moon

An indication of the tough times is the scarcity of bottles in the backyard at the time of the spring clean-up.

"Could you give a poor fellow a bite?" asked the dust-stained tramp. "I don't bite, myself," answered the lady of the house, "but I'll call the dog."

Hitler, the German Fascist, was defeated at the election but his party made a big showing. One more step and they arrive but before they make that step they will probably modify their views.

Mussolini gets only $1250 a year for being dictator of Italy. Jake says he'd hate to do the job for that sun. He prefers his cabin and his pen on forty cents a day relief allowance.

Jake wants to know if a man gambles away his salary and then loses his job, should he get relief pay? I think he should have to do without relief for losing his job.

Some people are so mad with the Tolmie government that they refuse to buy gasoline so as to avoid paying the six cents tax.

Leap Year is getting along nicely and very few casualties are so far reported.

UNEMPLOYED DELEGATES

Editor, Daily News:— Will you kindly grant us space in your valuable paper to thank the citizens who so generously contributed towards the expenses of sending our delegation to Vancouver?

We would like to thank each one personally but the list is too long. It contains 93 names and a total amount of $64.75 was received.

This is a most gratifying result and our delegation will do their best to fulfil the instructions given them at the public meeting on Sunday last, and endeavor to merit the confidence which has apparently been reposed in them.

Yours faithfully,
PRINCE RUPERT & DISTRICT UNEMPLOYED ASSOCIATION.
Charles Chapman, Chairman
R. J. Hobson, Acting Secretary.

Palpitation of the Heart Could Hardly Get Around

Mrs. Charles Storms, R.R. 5, Picton, Ont., writes:—"I was troubled with palpitation of the heart; couldn't sleep, day or night, and was so weak I could hardly get around."

After taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I was greatly relieved of these attacks.

My mother also has great faith in them and finds no other medicine can help her so much for heart trouble.
