BUTTON CONTEST RESULT

DISSOLUTION DALL

We have much pleasure in announcing the winner in our button contest which ended Saturday night.

On checking over the numerous estimates of the number of buttons in the jar, some were fantastic guesses, but the majority were reasonable, and showed that some thought had been exercised. We found that six entrants had omitted to estimate at all, while thirteen were under one hundred, the lowest being twelve, while twenty-three ranged from 9000 up, the highest being 60,000. One card bore the name of a famous Hollywood lady, though we are inclined to believe, the lady must have a name-sake here. If this is not the case, we have to admit that Prince Rupert advertising has farreaching effects, the lady referred to being no less a celebrity than Gloria Swanson.

The number of buttons in the jar was 2156, and the nearest estimate was made by Mrs. J. W. Lancaster, with 2175, being only 19 out, the second nearest was 2134, only 22 out.

We shall have much pleasure in presenting the prize to the winner, and heartily congratulate her on her success. We are continuing the sale for a few more days. The final windup will be announced at an early date.

The sealed envelope containing the number of buttons in the jar was opened by C. G. Minns this morning in the Daily News office in the presence of H. F. Pullen.

"How do they do it?"

Among your friends there's sure to be at least one smart young married couple who are the envy and admiration of all who know them.

With an income that is frankly abbreviated, and with no benevolent Aunts in the offing, they still have a home that is correct and comfortable in all its appointments, a home that is admired and copied by their friends.

"Yes, Jane is a remarkable little manager," will probably be the young husband's proud answer. And there is little doubt about it.

THEY DO IT THIS WAY

Take a look around that home and you will find no end of well known advertised products. For Jane is an efficient little manager. She can't afford to take chances that must only be debited to "Experience." When she buys for her home she must get tried and tested and trusted products which carry an honorable name to guarantee her satisfaction.

You will find that Jane is a consistent reader of the advertisements. Are you?
