KEEP UP OPTIMISM

"If we don't keep up our optimism and our pep we shall soon find that we have nothing left," declared L. S. McGill of Smithers who was here yesterday.

Mr. McGill had just returned from a successful mission next week for a non-stop cruise of in Vancouver but he would have been equally optimistic the Pacific Coast as far as Puget and smiling if he had failed. He can't help it. He has the Sound. happy faculty of keeping up his own spirits and enthusing Akron would abandon her original everyone with whom he comes in contact. So with all of us. We must refuse to be beaten and, when one method fails, we must try another. This is a time when men and women refuse to carry on in the old way but look nather to some newer and better way of doing things. New Barrington Hard times kill some people but bring out the native ingenuity of others who rise above their surroundings and keep happy and smiling.

They appear to be nearing a condition of open rebellion but possibly the outbreak will not occur. At any rate it seems as if an election is due this year, probably in the early autumn.

JAPANESE SITUATION

It is very difficult for an outsider to understand the Japanese situation. The only thing that seems clear is that the country is torn with civil strife, the military party trying to hold on to their time honored privileges and the For years Japan has been looked upon as the danger spot N.
