tained their mothers at a Mother and Daughter banquet on Friday evening in Knox United Church. Upwards of one hundred were present and thoroughly enjoyed the bountiful repast arranged for by the girls and their leaders.

Mrs. Head, Anglican group leader, spoke a few words of welcome which was followed by the singing of the C. G. I. T. Grace.

Following supper Doris Houlden formally welcomed the mothers on behalf of the girls and the following toast list was then presented: Toast to the King, proposed by Helen Beveridge, responded to with National Anthem. Toast to "Our Mothers," proposed by Helen Smith, responded to by Mrs. Geo. Dover. Toast to "The Church," proposed by Jean Doll, responded to by Mrs. C. W. McKim.

Mrs. Jas. H. Smith chose the time immediately following to express the appreciation of the girls and their leaders, of the great help giv en by Mrs. E. J. Moore while the were in camp last summer and pre sented her with a beautiful pair of Famous Emotional Actress Splencandlesticks.

In replying, Mrs. Moore assured the girls that she had enjoyed the camp quite as much as they did.

Following an interlude of social intercourse among the mothers, the girls presented a short program, after which games and contests were enjoyed.

All the king's horses . . . and all the king's men can't make a success out of a bad product. No amount of advertising will create a market for it. The more it's advertised, the more its defects become known.

A Good Product Well Advertised

grows as swiftly and naturally as a healthy plant. People try it and like it. They tell others. They like it. Soon that product is found everywhere . . . and its name, spread abroad by advertising, is on every tongue.

When you see something widely and consistently advertised, you can be pretty sure it's well worth having. If it weren't . . . if it didn't represent an honest and worthy value . . . the maker couldn't afford to advertise it.

Look Over the Advertisements in this Paper

Some of these names you know. Others, perhaps, are newcomers, all are entitled to your trust . . all are here because they have potential friends bringing some new comfort or convenience. But something real to contribute to your advantage . . . your service . . . your happiness.
