SPORT CHAT

Once again Miss Beth Trowbridge has scored in the field of high diving. This young Edmonton swimmer was successful in winning the Hoad championship cup at the Banff Winter carnival, making her for the fourth consecutive year Western Canada ladies' diving champion. For several years Miss Trowbridge has distinguished herself at swimming and diving meets. In 1928, in addition to being the holder of the Western Canada ladies' championship, she won the city and provincial championship. In 1929 she ranked second in the swimming competition put on by the Calgary Men's Amateur Swimming Club in the Crystal Pool. Miss Trowbridge thoroughly enjoys diving and some of the more difficult dives of which she is master are the Swan, the Jack-knife, the Back and the Flying Dutchman, and also the One and a Half Somersault.

Miners of Drumheller Valley in Alberta will quit the dark pits for a long spell this spring and step out to test their soccer ability with teams in British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario. The tour is slated to start April 25. A selection committee, which has been hard at work during the winter, has named 16 players to make the tour, and more may be added. All but two of those chosen earn their living by cutting coal from Drumheller mines. The team will be known as the Drumheller miners. Charlie Adams, long time sponsor of soccer throughout the valley, organized the tour and will travel as team manager. Billy Sanderson will be the trainer. The 16 players selected so far are: Claude

C.N.R. IS IN LEAD

Scored Decisive 38 to 25 Victory Over Panthers in First of Senior League Hoop Play-offs

Scouts Win Junior

Tribute Paid to Memory of Late Jack Ratchford by Observing One Minute of Silence

The play-off basketball games were very exciting last night. In the first of a two-game series the C. N. R. A. easily outclassed the Panthers in a strenuous and fast match, 38 to 25. The Junior game was excellent and the boys put up a real hard fought game in which the Scouts valiantly won, 14 to 12. An exhibition game between the High School and Tuxis also proved a spirited affair in which the High School boys won 27 to 18. There was also an added attraction in the form of a half-mile speed roller skating race between Batt and Strachan in which the former won by a mere few inches.

During the interval before the senior game, J. W. Plommer, president of the Basketball Association, spoke a few words on the sudden and recent death of a well known sportsman, Jack Ratchford, and, in due respect to the deceased, he asked all players and spectators to stand and bow their heads in a minutes' silence.

Senior Game
Senior game started fast and furious with both teams pressing hard. The C. N. R. forwards were forcing their way through the Panthers' defence and scoring but the Panthers could not make much headway against the air-tight defence of the Railway boys. Johnson and Lambie were using some nice combination which proved to be very effective. In the first half, the railway boys outscored the Panthers three to one. The first half ended with the C. N. R. in the lead 21-10. In the second half the railway boys completely outplayed the Panthers and scored at will. The Panthers could not seem to work the ball in and resorted to long shots with the usual effect. Panthers tried hard but the C. N. R. were giving their best and at no time were in danger of losing the game. C. N. R. well deserved their victory and now have a 13-point lead in the two-game series.

Junior Game
This contest was easily the best game the youngsters have put up this year. Both the Japanese and Scouts were out to win and they soon demonstrated that it was not going to be a walkover. The spirit in which they entered the game was enough to give any of the spectators a treat. They played hard and clean, using combination to advantage. The game was not one-sided and it was just chance that gave the Scouts the basket that gave them the lead as the whistle blew.
