SKATING AND CURLING AT END OF WEEK

Ice skating was a very popular diversion in Prince Rupert over the week-end. The ice sheets at Morse Creek and the Salt Lake were in excellent condition and, on Sunday especially, large crowds were to be seen at both. The Salvage Prince made three trips to the Salt Lake with skaters yesterday afternoon.

The curlers were also busy yesterday afternoon on the ice sheet in the C. N. R. hotel excavation on Second Avenue and had a good day's sport.

was taken by some today as an indication of an impending change, the Digby Island meteorological station at 9 o'clock did not predict a change for today at least, in weather conditions which have brought to Prince Rupert during the last few days the coldest snap of the present winter and the lowest thermometer readings in three years. The wind was still in the northeast quarter this morning and the barometer was remaining high and steady as it has done for several

Yesterday morning at 4 o'clock the lowest thermometer reading in Prince Rupert since February 1929 was recorded when the officia! thermometer at Digby Island touched 12 degrees above zero or 20 degrees of frost. Numerous water pipes in the city were touched by frost Saturday night and Sunday morning and the services of plumbers were much in demand. Coal piles also diminished rapidly as householders stoked their furnaces and heaters.

In February 1929 a reading of li above zero was recorded.
