Twenty Years Ago

In Prince Rupert

February 4, 1912

The opening of the plant of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. was celebrated last night with a ball which was attended by many invited guests. The company's boat F. H. Phippen as well as numerous private launches were used in transporting the guests to Seal Cove. Music for dancing was provided by an orchestra consisting of Miss Cora Barker, A. G. Nachbar, George Werner and W. L. Barker.

The retaining wall for the large fill on Third Avenue between McBride and First Streets has nearly been completed. The city council is considering using rock from private property for the grading of this piece of street.

Owing to scanty snowfall this winter, it is feared the city may be faced with a water shortage next summer.

PICTURE IS VERY SMART

Joan Crawford is Star of Sophisticated Yet Pleasant Story in "This Modern Age"

A highly sophisticated and smart yet pleasant story is told in "This Modern Age," starring Joan Crawford, which is the current feature offering on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here.

Miss Crawford plays the role of a young woman who has not seen her divorced mother since childhood. They are reunited and react more like friends than mother and daughter, the ultra-modern parent doing the same things that her daughter does. When her daughter finally falls in love with the son of conservative aristocrats, it is the ultra freedom of the mother that nigh wrecks the romance. A series of exciting events lead up to the denouement which is capped with a surprise climax.

The picture gives Miss Crawford a role for which she is eminently suited. Pauline Frederick, popular pioneer of the silent screen, gives an excellent performance as the mother while Neil Hamilton makes a very handsome lover indeed.
