Now, when one who has been rather closely connected with this group of companies makes a suggestion of the character of the one Gen. McRae has made, the public is entitled to ask what does it really mean. Gen. McRae can hardly have been unaware that there has been a persistent effort to turn the legitimate mining operations at Great Bear Lake into the foundation for another speculative boom which would permit millions of dollars of shares to be unloaded on the public. He is astute enough surely to realize that his speech in the Senate, with its very rosy figures on ore values, was just the sort of material the stock jobbers could use to very good effect in their preying on the
